Dutch Queen Reports to Nation

Princess Irene's Engagement Off, Says Juliana

THE HAGUE (AP)—Queen Juliana told the Dutch people Tuesday night that a planned engagement of her second daughter, Princess Irene, would not take place.

The 24-year-old Irene was linked romantically with a Spaniard after it was announced last week that she had left the Protestant Dutch Reform faith of the royal house to become a Roman Catholic.

At the time of the announcement Irene was in Spain, but she vanished from the Dutch Embassy in Madrid last Saturday.

She said she would have liked to tell her people earlier about the future plans of her daughter. But this could not be done, she went on, "because of the enjoyable possibility of an engagement."

The Queen then added: "But now, we have to tell you, alas, that our daughter Irene told us this afternoon that this engagement will not take place."

"You will feel with us that our daughter now is going through a very difficult time.

"We, therefore, make an urgent appeal to all of you to give her the rest which she is needing so much in these circumstances."

The Queen concluded: "We hope to see our daughter again in our midst soon."

Within two hours after her arrival, she received Premier Victor Marijnen. There were reports that in a four-hour session they had discussed constitutional problems raised by Irene's conversion and a possible marriage to a Spanish Roman Catholic.

The throne has been traditionally Protestant.

Government and political circles, although respecting the 24 - year - old Irene's religious choice, were upset by the fact that the cabinet and people had not been informed.

Tory Support Overwhelming

Thunder For John D

By BEN WARD

OTTAWA (CP)—John Diefenbaker received an overwhelming vote of confidence Tuesday at the Progressive Conservative party's annual meeting after a bid to hold an unprecedented secret ballot on his leadership was rejected.

A resolution endorsing his leadership was approved in a roaring standing vote.

It was impossible to make an accurate count, but it appeared that only about 50 of the 800 delegates remained seated when the vote in favor of Mr. Diefenbaker was called.

STAYED SEATED

"Make it unanimous," someone shouted, but most of those seated stayed that way.

After chairman William Cox of Halifax called for those opposed to the confidence resolution to stand, between 30 and 40 arose. There was booing and catcalls from sides of the hall.

TENSION BROKEN

Voting broke the electric tension which had been building up for three hours in the jammed hotel ballroom, hazy with smoke and steaming hot under an emotion-charged speech by the former prime minister in which he said he wanted the leadership of the party decided.

WANT TO KNOW

"I want to know where I stand," he said, referring to reports that an element within the party sought to remove him.

"I want to know where you stand, too," he added, bringing his audience to its feet in a thunderous ovation.

Mr. Diefenbaker said that no leader could move forward toward the foe while fearing that someone behind him would "interfere."

"If you decide on a secret vote . . . that's fine with me."

The major hassle of the afternoon developed on the motion by John Hilton of Toronto calling for a secret ballot on the draft resolution expressing

Nobody Will Bell The Cat!

OTTAWA (CP)—Who will bell the cat?

But despite pre - convention mutterings about discontent and disillusion with Mr. Diefenbaker's leadership, not one delegate offered a public criticism.

A few delegates refused to endorse confidence in Mr. Diefenbaker in the face of the convention's overwhelming and vociferous backing for the former prime minister.

This had been expected.

But what was unexpected was the complete absence of any criticism of Mr. Diefenbaker.

Perhaps many older Conservatives remembered bitterly how the party, during his long, dreary years in opposition from 1935 to 1957, practically made a habit of stoning its successive leaders for failure to win office.

Shipyard Strike On Today

About 1,400 Victoria shipyard workers were to strike today, despite last-minute government appeals which labor spokesmen said "came too late in the day."

Another 800 men in Vancouver, seeking the same new contract, agreed to postpone their scheduled walkout yesterday after a direct appeal by Labor Minister Peterson.

Mr. Peterson ordered deputy minister William Sands to intervene yesterday and request the men to halt the strike—scheduled for 7 a.m.—until after a labor-management meeting to start at 10 a.m.

Vancouver union officials, representing Burrard Dry-docks, agreed.

TOO LATE

But James McConachy, president of the Victoria Metal Trades Council, said the government request came "too late in the day," strike machinery was already set in motion, and as far as he was concerned, the strike would come off as scheduled. The men would not report for the shift beginning at 7 a.m.

During negotiations, the companies accepted, but unions rejected a unanimous conciliation board recommendation of a three-year, 30-cent increase. The 22 unions involved

Beatle Cut Ban Beaten

Students at Oak Bay High School have beaten the Beatle-haircut ban. Now, students are permitted to wear Beatle-style haircuts, providing they are not too long in the fringe.

Principal John Wallace decided this yesterday after requests from students David Mawie, 2641 Orchard, and Philip Linfield, 1705 Richardson, plus a 178-signature petition from other pupils.

Philip, who came to Victoria from England a few months ago, admitted last night that he may have started the haircut craze at the school.

Said Philip: "I had a Beatle haircut before I came here. When I first arrived, no one had heard of the Beatles and I came in for some leg-pulling.

CATCH ON

"But when the group started to catch on out here other students started having their hair cut Beatle - style — and that's when the trouble started."

Philip is a keen Beatle fan and has some of their records.

"I wouldn't mind being in a group myself," he said. "I'm learning the guitar at the moment. It would be fun to have a group."

Said David, "I talked to Mr. Wallace and he said he didn't mind our haircuts if we didn't let them get too long—especially at the front."

He added: "We're glad the ban has been lifted. And we'll be watching the Beatles on Ed Sullivan's show Sunday."

Blizzard Rages In Five States

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A blizzard raged across portions of five states in the U.S. southwest Tuesday whipping snow falls of more than 22 inches into drifts 10 feet high.

Traffic was paralyzed and scores of cities and towns isolated as the snow continued into the night.

Huge snow plows churned through snowdrifts along U.S. Highway 66 Tuesday night and freed some 30 motorists stranded in automobiles.

The transcontinental highway was clear but icy eastward to Santa Rosa, Assistant State Police Chief Capt. Joe Black said.

Black said all stranded motorists now were accounted for as far as he knew. The motorists went to both Tucumcari and Santa Rosa.

Three deaths in New Mexico and three in southeast Texas, far south of the snowstorm, were blamed on the weather. A rescue team using a snow plow failed to find two cowboys missing in the Texas panhandle and helicopters stood by for a possible rescue when the weather cleared.

Cyclist Mystery Deepens

The mystery began Saturday when two women strolling along a beach south of San Francisco found a suitcase containing a passport made out to Clare McEwen, 34, of Winnipeg. The contents also included a receipt for a man's bicycle purchased in San Francisco.

RCMP NOTIFIED

On Tuesday, Sgt. Thomas Culley of the Daly City detective bureau said the parents of Miss McEwen had telephoned from Winnipeg, verified that their daughter had been due in this area and was on her way as a tourist to Mexico.

Culley now is checking a report that a Daly City resident saw a large woman pushing a bicycle in the city Jan. 26.

RCN Ships At Manila

MANILA (AP)—Three Canadian destroyer escorts are here on a four-day goodwill visit as part of a Far East training cruise. The vessels, the HMCS Frazier, Mackenzie and St. Lawrence, have visited Hawaii, Midway and Guam. They will later join ships of other Commonwealth countries in exercises in the Indian Ocean.

Medicare Drugs Urged on Ontario

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Pharmacists' Association has decided to press the Ontario government to include its pre-paid drug prescription plan in any provincial medical care legislation.

The association recommended acceptance of the Green Shield plan, which it described as non-profit and which has been in operation across Ontario since last July, administered by member pharmacists.

The association agreed at its semi - annual council meeting Tuesday to take its demands to the provincial government. Its decision was made after hearing a report from Prescription Services Incorporated on the operation of the Green Shield plan.

Earlier this year the association had suggested to a government committee studying proposed medical care legislation that such legislation should include a pre-paid prescription plan.

Cleveland Integrates

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland board of education capitulated Tuesday night to demands of civil rights groups and agreed to complete integration of all schools.

Murder Suspect Checked Earlier

VANCOUVER (CP) — The man named by Charles Heathman as the murderer of Vernon newsboy Donald Ottley has been investigated long ago, an RCMP official said Tuesday.

Staff Sgt. Frank Regan said his questioning of Heathman on this statement has revealed nothing and the renewed study of the Ottley case now will switch to Vernon itself.

Heathman, twice convicted of the boy's 1960 murder and later acquitted, said last week that people in Vernon "know who did it and so do I."

LONDON (Reuters)—Queen Mother Elizabeth, 63, was reported in satisfactory condition and doing "very well" Tuesday night after undergoing an emergency appendectomy.

originally sought a 40-cent raise over two years, but during negotiations offered to accept 30 cents over two years. The present journeyman's rate is $2.70, with $2.80 for electricians.

After a majority vote to strike last week, the unions had 90 days to serve official notice of a strike within 48 hours. They did this Monday.

Yesterday, the issue became a matter of saving face and not showing weakness, as each side proclaimed its willingness to negotiate further, but neither would actually make the first advance.

NO NOTIFICATION

Last night, one shipyards operator, Harold Husband of VMD, said as far as his firm was concerned there had been no official notification of an impending strike, and VMD would operate as if no strike was to occur.

Mr. McConnachy said the official 48-hour notice was all that was required and no further notice would be given.

Labor Minister Peterson said yesterday he was still hoping the Victoria workers would reconsider and at least postpone their walkout until after today's meeting.

LONG STRIKE

He said negotiations would be "extremely difficult" after work had stopped, and foresaw the possibility of a long strike.

He called Victoria union men "most unreasonable," in refusing to reconsider at his request.

Pulp Licence Opposed

The application is sought in connection with plans by the complex to build a pulp and paper operation in the Kitimat area.

City council, meeting in committee Monday night, discussed the possibility of submitting a brief opposing the licence when public hearings are held later this year.

No actual authorization or preparation of a brief was recommended.

Such harvesting would come within Prince Rupert's economic orbit, council was told by forester Mark Gormley, a consultant who in 1957 prepared a comprehensive report on the forest industry as it affects Prince Rupert.

Ald. A. D. Ritchie, who urged the city raise its voice in opposition, said "I resent MacMillan & Bloedel cutting within our economic area."

Prince Rupert's economy rests on fishing, pulp and lumber and tourism, he said. "If we do not object one of our three economic bases will be lopped off."

Housewives Alleged Call Girls

MINEOLA, N.Y. (UPI) — Undercover investigators Tuesday smashed a suburban sex ring where housewives worked as call girls to supplement the family income and made as much as $30,000 a year.

District attorney William Cahn said that the husband of one of the call girls "knew what she was doing" and acted as baby-sitter while she was out with other men.

Police rounded up 16 persons, including the 35-year-old "madam" of the operation. Cahn said that more arrests were expected.

Obituaries

Ardent Sports Fan Dies

A well-known Victoria baseball and hockey fan, Mrs. Helen E. S. Harris, died yesterday in Royal Jubilee Hospital, at 84. Funeral will be in Christ Church Cathedral at 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Harris, widow of E. J. (Babe) Harris and mother of Mrs. Waldo Skillings, wife of the Victoria MLA, never missed a game when the Victoria Athletics baseball team played.

Since her husband's death seven years ago, Mrs. Harris had lived with Mrs. Skillings at 1721 Rockland. Born in Montreal, she came to Victoria in 1912.

For many years Mrs. Harris was organist at St. Matthias Church. She was president of the Little Helpers of the Anglican Church for Vancouver Island.

John Noble

A former Victoria resident was buried at sea yesterday after he was killed in a fall Sunday night aboard the P & O-Orient liner Oronsay on the return leg of a round-the-world trip.

John Noble, 53, came to Victoria from Scotland as a young boy, and lived here for 47 years.

He was well known as a soccer player and outdoorsman, was a member of several Scottish societies, held high office in Lodge No. 1, IOOF, and was a member of Manoah Lodge 141, AF & AM, Tofino. A plumber, he formed the Monarch Plumbing and Heating Co. in 1937.

He moved to Long Beach four years ago, and established a plumbing business there. He was also an agent for two oil companies, and started the West Coast's first laundromat in Ucluelet.

Ralph Kirby

Ralph Kirby, of Milnes Landing and formerly of the Shirley district beyond Sooke, died yesterday in St. Joseph's Hospital. He was in his 72nd year.

Mr. Kirby was the last member of the Kirby family who pioneered the Shirley district. Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2:15 p.m. in McCall's chapel.

Sooke Thirsty Says Bruch

A man can get mighty thirsty when he has to drive from Port Renfrew all the way in to Colwood for a bottle of liquor, says Esquimalt MLA Herbert Bruch, who thinks there should be a liquor store at Sooke.

It is simply "too far to drive" when one has to come all the way to Colwood or Victoria for a bottle, he told the legislature yesterday.

He said the member from Saanich has taken a stand on the question of a liquor store for his municipality, and "a lot has been said against tobacco," but these things have to be left up to the good sense of the people.

COMMON SENSE

It can be argued that smoking relaxes a person and that liquor can be a medication, the Esquimalt Socred MLA explained. Anyhow, "you cannot legislate common sense."

Mr. Bruch said he felt the government should implement "some type of commuter ticket for the residents of Vancouver Island" for use on the B.C. government ferries.

Ovation for John D

confidence and support of Mr. Diefenbaker's party leadership. Such a motion is presented to every annual meeting but it had never before run into opposition.

33 SPOKE

There were 33 speakers—21 supporting the call for a secret ballot and 12 urging an open, standing vote.

When Mr. Hilton opened the argument in favor of a secret ballot, there were chants of "no, no, no."

He was supported by four former members of Parliament — Maurice Allard of Sherbrooke, Que., Art Smith of Calgary, J. M. Macdonnell of Toronto, former minister without portfolio, and Fred Stinson of Toronto.

IN FAVOR

Others who spoke in favor of the secret vote included Carl Mooers of Fredericton, retiring president of the Young Progressive Conservatives; Hal Jackman of Toronto; Brig. John Price, president of a Montreal riding association, and Rene Dionne, president of the Quebec Young Conservatives.

Opposition to the idea came from Donald MacInnis, MP for Cape Breton South; Arthur Maloney of Toronto, a former MP; former mayor Nathan Phillips of Toronto and Dr. Lewis Brand of Saskatoon.

Most of those arguing in favor of the secret ballot said it would allow a freer expression of opinion. They said it would be the best way of preventing an open breach in party ranks.

FEAR REPRISALS

Mr. Mooers said some delegates were afraid to oppose Mr. Diefenbaker in an open vote because of future recriminations.

Speakers opposed to the ballot said it would be a dangerous precedent, and harm party unity.

Mr. Maloney said it was obvious the vast majority of delegates wanted to stand up publicly and show their loyalty to Mr. Diefenbaker.

The 68-year-old leader said earlier he would not express an opinion on the way the vote should be taken. But he said he would not oppose a secret vote if the meeting wanted it.

YEAR AGO

It was a year ago yesterday that Mr. Diefenbaker's government was defeated on a confidence vote in the Commons, setting the stage for the April 8 election that brought the Liberals to power.

One of those who opposed him in Tuesday's vote was Douglas Harkness, the former defence minister whose resignation from the Diefenbaker cabinet over the great nuclear issue was announced a year ago Tuesday. That resignation, forerunner of two more from the cabinet, helped trigger the Commons defeat.

AUDIENCE OVERFLOWS

Mr. Diefenbaker made no reference to the anniversaries in his fighting speech to the huge audience which spilled into the hallways and an overflow hall seating 250.

He said leaders must stand for what they believe is right, no matter what the opposition.

"I come before you today as the defender of the faith of the fathers of Confederation in one Canada.

"I come to unite, not to disunite; to heal, not to wound. . . ."

He called on the delegates to build up and not tear down.

There could be "differences without dissension, disagreements without disunity."

Mr. Diefenbaker delivered a blistering rundown on the Liberal government's first nine months of office, declaring that the people of Canada would surely reject the Liberals in the next election.

MORE BUREAUCRACY

"Economic nonsense" had replaced financial responsibility under the Liberal administration. The trend to more bureaucracy had started again.

"This is the new era—the era of bunk," he said.

Mr. Diefenbaker said all of his ambitions have been fulfilled except one—"to do that which Macdonald and Cartier tried for many years to achieve, to bring about a new unity in the country."

A year ago the Liberals had said he was anti - American. Now they said he was anti-Quebec.

Mr. Diefenbaker was given a standing 80-second ovation at the end of his 53-minute speech. He and Mrs. Diefenbaker walked from the hall a few moments later.

Your Good Health

Removal Preferred To Draining Cysts

By JOSEPH MOLNER, MD

Dear Dr. Molner: What is your opinion of draining cysts in the breasts instead of removing them by surgery? I had two removed in less than a year and now I find I have another on the other breast. Is there a higher risk of cancer when you are prone to get cysts? I am 51.—Mrs. F.V.C.

There isn't much point in draining cysts, whether in the breast or elsewhere.

A cysts, by definition, is a sac-like or hollow enclosure. In medical practice, it most frequently means that the sac is a gland of one type or another, and has become closed. Thus the material which should flow from the gland cannot escape, and the cyst swells and becomes painful.

PROCESS RECURS

If you drain such a cyst, the discomfort is relieved because the pressure is removed. But the cyst seals over, and the whole process recurs. And that is why removal, rather than draining, is preferred.

Some people have trouble with cystic mastitis—cysts on one or both breasts. The breast tissue, of course, is full of small milk glands. Why a few of them tend to become cysts in some individuals and not in others is not easy to answer, but this happens.

These are not related to cancer. Indeed, where more than one lump (more than one cyst) appears, it is a good sign. Cancer ordinarily begins as a single, painless lump.

However, while the presence of cysts is in no way an indication that cancer is likely, neither is it a guarantee that cancer may not appear. The danger is in taking for granted that a new lump is "just another cyst." Therefore report it to your physician so he can determine its nature.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner. A friend is using a bleach to lighten the hair on her lip. She gets sores and pimples in her nose almost every time although it doesn't hurt her lip. I've been telling her the directions say not to use it on any part of the face. Is there anything harmless on the market to use as a lip bleach?—V.P.

Hydrogen peroxide is about as harmless a bleach as you could use. Evidently she is sensitive to something in the present bleach and ought to abandon it, if only because the pimples won't enhance her appearance. They could, of course, become the site of infection.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it necessary to douche after menstruation? I am 27 and never have done so because frankly I don't know the first thing about it.—L.E.

No, it isn't necessary, and many gynecologists feel that needless douching can even be harmful at times. Douching is, however, often of use as a means of medication.

IT'S A MISERY when you first discover you have psoriasis. Miserable, too, if you do nothing about these crusty patches of scaly skin.

IT'S A MISERY if psoriasis spreads — leaves your skin rough and scaly. A misery when psoriasis keeps recurring.

MISERY OF PSORIASIS

New healing preparation works 3 ways at once to help clear up the symptoms of PSORIASIS

Clinically tested. Your money back if TEGRIN does not give relief. Psoriasis can leave your skin so crusty and scaly you feel embarrassed, self conscious, ill at ease. But now, there is new help for psoriasis sufferers — a new clinically tested healing preparation called TEGRIN.*

Unique triple-action cream

TEGRIN is an efficient cream you can purchase at all drug counters. So easy and pleasant to use — even on the scalp — with no lingering medical smell or stain. And it's effective because it works three ways at once:

1. Scale removal and itch control — the use of TEGRIN helps to relieve itching promptly; scales and crust "pile-ups" are loosened and come away.

2. Healing of the skin — the soothing action of TEGRIN speeds improvement by encouraging the natural ability of the skin tissue to recover and heal itself.

3. Prevention of recurrent scales — timely re-application of TEGRIN provides a special preventive action that opposes and helps block off the formation of new scales.

Dramatic clearing reported

Before its introduction, the TEGRIN formula was subjected to exhaustive investigation. Extensive clinical tests were conducted. The results of these studies showed the TEGRIN formula to be effective in relieving psoriasis. Clinical reports dealing with the results of treatment show that the TEGRIN formula has an impressive achievement record.

The manufacturers of TEGRIN sincerely believe this is one of the most effective medications ever developed to give relief and control of psoriatic skin disturbances. If after a fair trial, the user is not satisfied with TEGRIN, the manufacturer will refund the cost of the purchase.

Boeing Planning Big Space Labs

SEATTLE (AP) — The Boeing Co. announced plans Tuesday for a multi-million-dollar space centre near Kent, just south of Boeing's Seattle-area plants.

Four laboratories costing an estimated $15,000,000 would make up the first stage. Construction on the 320-acre site will start within a few days.

TESTING MATERIALS

A second would simulate space environment. The other two would be for research and development in microelectronics and testing new materials and processes.

About 400 scientists and technicians would be employed in these laboratories. Other laboratories, administrative and support buildings and manufacturing facilities are planned later.

"Space projects we can see in the future require that we increase our facilities to match the demand of new technologies," Allen said.

The space-simulation laboratory will be used to learn how man can control space craft in actual missions. The tests will include simulated rendezvous in space as well as linking of spaceships and inspecting them in orbit.

World's Longest Sign Found by Railway

The sign was found at the foot of a television mast near Cardiff. Welsh university students were thought to have taken it as a stunt to raise money for charity. No ransom was paid.

Trigger Pulled—Only a Click

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (Reuters)—A left-wing guerrilla stuck a pistol into a Canadian colonel's stomach and pulled the trigger—but there was only a click.

The officer, Lt. - Col. Paul Mayer, had for the first time on a 10-day UN helicopter rescue mission forgotten to put a bullet into the pistol chamber before the gun was stolen from him by guerrillas in the Congo's strife-torn Kwilu province.

Reliable sources told the story Tuesday night of how Mayer twice cheated death—the second time was when bullets smashed into a light plane 10 inches from where he sat.

SAME TIME

The sources, who reached Leopoldville at the same time, said Mayer flew to the UN operational base at Tshikapa 10 days ago with orders to rescue all missionaries requesting assistance.

The helicopters flew first into Kisandji mission to rescue Roman Catholic priests and nuns from a guerrilla - surrounded mission.

Mayer, armed with only a pistol which he had forgotten to load, went forward to negotiate with the guerrillas as helicopters hovered near by.

During the negotiations he was hit over the head with the blunt end of a machet, jabbed in the leg with a spear, and was threatened with having his wedding ring finger cut off "after he was dead."

The helicopters seeing the colonel was in trouble "buzzed" the group. A guerrilla leader seized Mayer's pistol and thrust it into the colonel's stomach with the threat that the next time the group was "buzzed" he would die.

'In Your Lifetime'

Widow's Testimony May Remain Secret

WASHINGTON (AP) — The secretly given testimony of Mrs. Marina Oswald on events preceding the assassination of president John F. Kennedy "may not be released in your lifetime," Chief Justice Earl Warren has disclosed.

Warren said the presidential investigating commission which he heads will issue a statement —perhaps Wednesday—when it finishes questioning its first witness, the slim and pretty widow of Lee Harvey Oswald.

Warren told reporters the full testimony will be preserved for the public, but if it contains information affecting national security, it may be suppressed for decades—"and I say that seriously."

It was suggested the commission intends to explore as thoroughly as possible, through Mrs. Oswald and other witnesses, delicate subjects such as Oswald's 1959 visit to Russia, his unsuccessful efforts to defect to the Soviet Union and his attempts, on a Mexican visit last September, to obtain visas for Russia or Cuba.

Hands Off!

MR. CHANT'S proposal to build the new provincial museum on the summit of Beacon Hill instead of at Belleville and Government will come as a dismaying shock to most Victorians—and one that seems no less preposterous as his reasons are examined. The works minister and his department advisers would spoil one of the capital city's greatest and most distinctive assets and chiefly, it would appear, for short-sighted economy.

The department does not like the location across from the Empress Hotel on three accounts.

One is that the size and nature of the site would compel upward instead of outward expansion of the museum in future, which is difficult to recognize as a severe handicap. Another is that it would call for architecture in keeping with that of the legislative buildings, or at least not in shrieking contrast. Nor should this be beyond the powers or purse of the government. The third is that it would involve new parking and traffic problems—which in any case are forthcoming and must be solved, even if at considerable expense.

The impression is that Mr. Chant would see the Belleville Street parking lot serve far into the future in its present unbecoming capacity.

And what are the virtues that Mr. Chant and his staff see in the Beacon Hill situation on the other hand?

- That it would cost nothing. (Except aesthetically—in the sense that the new museum would dominate the park from almost every aspect, robbing it of its long-protected character.)
- That it would be away from downtown congestion. (And bring its own new congestion to the park.)
- That it would be easily accessible. (Except to visitors on foot.)
- That it would have unlimited parking space. (And Beacon Hill would have less and less park space, and more and more blacktop, as a consequence.)
- That it would permit outward expansion and complete architectural freedom. (With what further inroads in future into this "free" property of the citizens of Victoria, and with what assurance of pleasing design?)

One would like to believe that Mr. Chant in announcing his intention has just been, in political parlance, flying a kite. City council and Greater Victoria's members of the assembly apart from the minister, it is to be hoped, will quickly make it obvious that in this community the wind of disapproval is nothing short of a gale.

Disappointment

THERE WILL be genuine regret here that sudden illness has forced Queen Mother Elizabeth to enter a London hospital, with the consequent cancellation of her scheduled tour of New Zealand and Australia. Victorians had been looking forward to the pleasure of welcoming her this weekend during a brief stopover in this city en route.

Disappointment will be keen "down under," where a lengthy program of events had been arranged over a period of many weeks and these Commonwealth countries agog for this visit by so popular a royal personage as the Queen Mother. The probability is that because of other royal commitments her illness, while normally not of a serious nature, will postpone her Australian tour for another year at least.

Meantime good wishes will flow into Clarence House and the hope will be general that the Queen Mother will soon be restored to full health and activity, and that Victoria may have the opportunity of seeing her at some not too distant date.

The Moon Shot

WHETHER OR NOT the United States spacecraft Ranger VI failed completely in its mission to the moon is not yet known. Certainly it did not accomplish its main purpose of sending back to earth visual signals which would have allowed American scientists to study the mysteries of the lunar landscape at first hand.

Particularly galling to Washington is the knowledge that had the Ranger's television equipment functioned as expected the United States would have been well on its way to catching up with Russian space achievements.

As it is now, unless the Ranger succeeded in sending back other hitherto unknown information regarding the moon and its environs before it crashed, the American effort has but duplicated something Soviet scientists accomplished nearly five years ago.

On February 28 U.S. space scientists will attempt to send another Ranger to the moon. As good neighbors we Canadians will be wishing them well on that day. Some of us may even go so far as to spare a kindly thought at the time for the U.S. taxpayer who is paying out $28,000,000 for the shot.

Egg-and-Bumper Car

IN THESE DAYS when nearly everybody owns one nearly everybody is interested in what the automobile of the future will be like.

A British scientist, Dr. John Black, hazarded a guess last week. The car of 1984, he says, will be like the fairground bumper car and its occupants will be packaged like eggs.

For the next 20 years, Dr. Black thinks, automotive designers and engineers will be concentrating on producing an accident-proof car.

He predicts that 1984 automobiles will be equipped with a spring-loaded bumper right around the body and built to ride over the engine on impact. Inside the car the occupants—in the event of a collision—will be held safely in their seats by rubber safety "shelves" which swing down from the upright.

He also envisages short-wave radio communication between drivers, which will allow them to talk to each other while cars are in motion at any speed.

As far as ease of driving is concerned, Dr. Black recommends grouping all controls within 28 inches of the driver, between elbow and shoulder height, with all dials on the driver's eye-line.

If these and other ideas are carried out, says Dr. Black, "we would then have a veritable 'bumper car' in which serious injury would be unlikely."

If the good doctor proves to be a true prophet the only problem left the car owner of the future will be how to silence the back-seat driver.

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes, and ships, and sealing wax . . ."

By TOM TAYLOR

WHEN you come to think of it courtrooms don't believe too much in the veracity of the human race. In the sacred halls of justice the assumption is that all people are liars, or will be if given half a chance.

Else why make them take an oath to tell the truth? The latter, obviously, isn't taken for granted.

Now in the political realm the rules are different. No one ever has to stand up in Parliament and swear on the Bible before he speaks.

This suggests naturally that no one while there would ever depart from the strict paths of spoken rectitude. And if he does it's excusable. As a reporter said of a certain British MP the other day, "when he tells those little white political lies which are the tools of his trade he grins cheerfully" (page our chaps at James Bay).

* * *

He knows his listeners know that he knows he is not being quite truthful. As for instance a lady might guess when a male friend, on being asked for his opinion, tells her the new hat she is wearing is simply scrumptious.

This is a classic example of the white social lie. By a consortium of opinion designed to keep the social peace it is considered to be a pardonable untruth.

I wouldn't suggest that parliamentary white lies necessarily keep the peace; the opposite is more apt to be the case even if the players in this political realm accept these as part of the game.

But a white lie is acceptable even if it is often invoked. Hence statements denying this or that which will be admitted a week later, perhaps, or those evasive answers which avoid the white lie but are in essence of the same vintage.

In ordinary civilian life repeated white lies or evasions would soon cause the vendor of same to become a social outcast, but I suppose we must always remember that politics is the art of the possible. And the possible is thus tied up with the practical and the practical, seemingly, with little pale departures from veracity per se.

* * *

Yet it has its amusing side, this absolution because of the tools of the politician's trade. What would happen if this handy gloss were removed?

If for example the procedures of a courtroom were to become mandatory in a parliament, even for one day. If on catching the Speaker's eye the sergeant-at-arms approached an MP as he rose to speak — with a Bible in his hand!

The little white lies would have to be eschewed, and what a pickle that would cause. I doubt if democracy could stand it.

For the political evasions, as you know, are part and parcel of this thing the professionals conveniently call a game.

From the Scriptures

Washington Calling

Texas Beef Barons Are Worried

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WHAT touches the heart of a Texan far more deeply than oil is the ranch home and the cattle on the range. This is both a reassuring link with the free-wheeling past and a source of pride, profit and, for the very rich, a useful tax-deduction device.

The stream of officials who visited President Johnson on his LBJ Ranch during the holiday interval included two top economic counselors, Walter Heller, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, and budget director Kermit Gordon. The president had asked for a memorandum on the imports of beef from abroad.

As the two advisers sat down to a hearty meal at the ranch table that memorandum was Topic No. 1. What is more, the president had invited several neighboring ranchers as guests. Heller and Gordon have since said that rarely had they come under such concentrated fire.

Their memorandum concluded that the decline in beef prices in 1963 had resulted not from the growing scale of imports but from greatly increased cattle feeding here at home. Therefore, a so-called voluntary agreement to restrict imports from Australia and New Zealand would serve little purpose.

* * *

The president is said to have contented himself with a sharp dissent from the conclusion. But the tough-talking ranchers let the economists have it. Economic theories were all right but if you allowed beef from outside to pour in here then America's ranchers faced ruin.

The Department of Agriculture, which compiled the facts for the Gordon-Heller memorandum, shows that beef supplies last year increased by 1,300,000,000 pounds over 1962. But of this increase all but about 200,000,000 pounds was in home production.

Imported beef accounted last year for about 10 per cent of the market in this country. Of this two-thirds came from Australia and New Zealand with the balance from Ireland, Mexico and small amounts from Argentina and other countries.

Even though there is a 10 per cent American tariff, Australia sends beef into this country and sells it at several cents a pound more than on the London market. Australian beef is from range cattle that are not fattened just before market on grain. In this country it is mostly manufacturing beef used in the canning industry. But it is also found in lower-priced restaurants where a $1.29 sirloin platter is the specialty. There is no requirement that imported beef be labeled as such although certain states—Wyoming and South Dakota—have passed labeling laws.

What disturbs the ranchers is the rapid rise in the volume of beef imports. Five years ago only three percent of the American supply came from abroad. And with Australia having vast empty spaces that can be opened up to ranching another five years could see the volume at 15 or 20 per cent of the U.S. market.

American capital in sizable amounts is moving into Australia to buy land and stock it with herds. The Klebergs of Texas with their world-wide King ranch operations have acquired a tract in Australia said to be equivalent to a half-dozen counties—and Texas-size counties. It was Richard Kleberg, then a Congressman, who gave a young man named Lyndon Johnson his first job in Washington.

There is concern in the Department of Agriculture over any attempt to compel the beef-exporting countries to cut down their shipments. This, it is feared, would prejudice America's position in the tariff negotiations to be held in Geneva in May. Out of that round of negotiations agriculture, despite the doubts within the state department, is determined to get a commitment that will assure American grain sales to Western Europe up to 12 per cent of Europe's needs.

* * *

So the beef exports to this country are part of a much larger picture in which the relation of America's huge farm surpluses to world trade and in particular to the European market is at stake. Australia, New Zealand and Ireland have agreed in principle to apply a voluntary restraint during the current year. The practical effect of this agreement is not yet certain but it is likely to mean that the rate of increase of beef imports will be slowed.

The cloud on the ranchers' horizon has acquired a slight silver lining. In the last month or so beef prices have moved up by five per cent. If this upward movement continues, the joy on the range will once again be unconfined.

U.K. Looks Forward

Towns of 2010

From Background to Britain

IF Britain is to meet the challenge of the motor age its town dwellers will have to prepare themselves for a multi-storied way of life in redeveloped city centres. Vehicle traffic is likely to have quadrupled by 2010 and unless action is taken immediately to deal with it rationally the car could mean for Britain "ruin before the end of the century." These conclusions, the result of three years' study, are contained in a report released by a working party under the chairmanship of Professor Colin D. Buchanan and supported by a steering committee led by Sir Geoffrey Crowther.

The report recommends:

Secondary distributor roads at ground level free from pedestrians.

Because of the crowded nature of the island and its growing population, people cannot, the working party maintains, be dispersed much more nor city densities reduced. In the past, traffic authorities have thought only of speeding the flow of traffic. But the object of traffic is not movement but the service of buildings (offices, homes, shops, etc.). Traffic, therefore, is a factor of buildings and should be planned for as such. It should be taken away from every self-contained "environment" (residential, commercial or industrial) within towns. Only traffic with business within an environment should be allowed there.

A gigantic program of urban reconstruction on a regional basis supplemented by regional transportation planning is proposed. The steering committee maintains that Britain has "no reason to be frightened by all this." The central sections of most of Britain's "cities were largely built within a few decades of the 19th century and the rebuilding necessary to implement the ideas of the Buchanan Report, which would be very much less than total reconstruction, should not be beyond the powers of "a few decades" of this century.

Hellfire and Brimstone

Tributes Come Late

By CASSANDRA from London

ON the first anniversary of Hugh Gaitskell's death an "interim biography" of him has been edited by W. T. Rodgers (Thames and Hudson 25s).

There are 14 memoirs of Gaitskell from a wide gallery of admirers that includes such diverse figures as John Betjeman, Willy Brandt, Sam Watson, Margaret Cole, Arthur Schlesinger and Roy Jenkins.

But I cannot help contrasting these well-deserved tributes with the malevolent storm of bitterness I heard so often directed against Hugh Gaitskell while he was alive, the virulence of which plumbed the depths when he was described by Aneurin Bevan as "a desiccated calculating machine."

Nothing could have been less true.

What is strange and tragic about all this is that it needs a man's death to get his character into true perspective. What is not accorded to him while he is alive is generously granted with flowers on his grave.

In a rather different way the same thing happened to President Kennedy. I saw a lot of him when I followed him around the United States on his election tour. I was not all that impressed and said so at the time—and I may very well have been wrong.

In fact, with hindsight, I think I was.

But during his life he was cordially detested by millions of Americans — especially in the Deep South. Once the back of his head was blown off by a horrible assassin, the dead president took his place in the history of the United States securely alongside Lincoln and Washington.

* * *

A few days ago we had the Rev. Street laying on a mediaeval curse for those whom he suspected of black magic.

Now the Rev. Geoffrey Grubb, of Spaxton, Somerset, has also got into the cussing act.

He says: "In accordance with the scriptural authority in the Prayer Book of the Established Church I declare this religious curse on any in Spaxton who give false information to the Press or to the Bishop."

As a matter of fact, the Press themselves have done a bit of cursing in a rather amateur Billingsgate fashion against those who have given us false information, but I notice that the Rev. Grubb also bitterly inveighs against reporters and editors. He warns us all of the final account we must make before the Judgment Seat.

Maybe we deserve a touch of hellfire and brimstone, but I have the feeling that these parsons roundly cursing their flocks instead of blessing them, are not particularly good advertisements for the charity of the Church.

Two hundred vehicles crashed and piled up on that concrete abattoir known as the M1.

At least 22 people were injured, six of them seriously. Eye-witnesses said that some cars and lorries were driving at 70 m.p.h. through the fog.

The Ministry of Transport in reply to an angry suggestion that fog warnings had been inadequate replied bitterly:

"If motorists cannot take the necessary precautions to drive with care within the limits of their vision, then all the warning signs in the world will not prevent accidents."

Mr. Marples backed them up.

I agree. People on these motorways DO drive at these murderous and lunatic speeds.

But why allow driving at these perilous speeds at all? In the United States, where they have had motorways for 25 years, there are always speed limits ranging from about 45 m.p.h. to 70 m.p.h.

They know over there that speed kills.

Why not a limit on our motorways?

Or are we going to do it the way the Italians do? When fairly recently the last 130-mile strip of the Autostrada del Sol from Milan to Naples was opened a gentleman celebrated the event on the first day by covering the distance in fifty-six minutes—an average speed of about 140 m.p.h. I trust he is still alive.

* * *

Years ago people who wanted to be left alone from the forced attention of the hucksters, used to fix little enamelled plates on their front gates bearing the notice "NO HAWKERS, NO CIRCULARS." It was a reasonable enough request — and was usually complied with. The Postmaster-General will have nothing of this.

He has just fired his first broadside by his "NEW HOUSE-TO-HOUSE DELIVERY OF UNADDRESSED MAIL BY THE POST OFFICE."

By this new infliction on our privacy, circulars, leaflets, shopping guides, sales letters, samples and packets can be thrust into our letterboxes without our permission. In the words of the Post Office:

"It is an undoubted boon to all those requiring door-to-door delivery, from the largest mailing house down to the smallest retail business."

So now, without consultation, without permission, we are going to get great drifts of this unwanted rubbish thrust into our homes.

Among the first who hope to take advantage of this business are Aims of Industry, who intend to clutter the whole place with their anti-nationalization propaganda. Not surprisingly the Post Office Workers' Union are resisting.

I don't wish Mr. Bevins personal harm, but I hope he gets lost under the biggest snowstorm of sprinted drivel that will fill his hall, his sitting room, his dining room, his kitchen, his bedroom and his bathroom, and then overflow into the garden until he and his house have disappeared from sight.

And I'll see to it that no search party is sent to dig out this particular Babe in the Woods from under his man-made mountain of paper leaves.

Diverting the Jordan Waters

In his article entitled "This Is No Time for Our Usual Timidity," Mr. Colin Cameron, MP, makes no mention whatsoever of former international proposals for the best utilization of the Jordan River for the common good of both Israel and Jordan.

In 1953 Mr. Eric Johnston, a U.S. expert, examined for the United Nations the whole complex of water utilization in the Jordan Valley. The "Johnston Plan," accepted by Israel and rejected by Jordan, called for Israel to utilize 40 per cent of Jordan water, and the Kingdom of Jordan to use the remaining 60 per cent.

Israel has waited a long time before completing a project of considerable importance to her economy. She will not touch the 60 per cent allocated under the Johnston Plan to Jordan.

Israel's plan will provide almost four hundred million cubic yards of water a year for the economy of her water-starved land. One-third of this will go to industry, one-third to replenishing and consolidating existing resources, and only one-third to the agricultural development of the Negev Desert.

Without reference to Israel, Jordan has gone ahead with its own plan to use waters from a river that flows into Israel, the Yarmuk, which has roughly the same flow as the Jordan, and is its chief tributary. This plan, completed last November, has dangerously increased the salinity of the Lower Jordan.

Israel would welcome Jordan utilization of its 60 per cent share of the flow of the Jordan. This would facilitate the resettlement of a substantial portion of Palestinian Arab refugees.

Bilingualism

"Now to the point of the Frenchmen's nature, ye shall understand that their disposition is such, that they will be at the first meeting as familiar with you as they had been acquainted with you long before, and commune with you in the French tongue as though you understood every word they spake; therefore in like manner, be ye as familiar with them again as they be with you. If they speak to you in French tongue, speak to them in the English tongue; for if you understand not them, they shall no more understand you."

So said his Eminence Cardinal Wolsey four and a half centuries ago. Times seemingly do not change much.

That and a Smile!

The Throne Speech is over and we are in debate. Some things we've been told but not all? Were we fully informed, what's to wonder? For we would congratulate the government on its perspicuity? Its reluctance to hide anything! Its eagerness to table all its cards!

Completely in the know, could we anticipate all hadn't been disclosed? Why, after our first avalanche of "facts, figures and fulminations," we should subside into that which derives from listening not too wisely but too well! "How," we should ask, "does the opposition stand it?" For they would be changed men.

Of course, the premier is much too astute to provide all at once. Anticipation is more to his liking — with more good things from his table. And which he would have us believe groans with the weight of public prosperity.

In a word, he wants to keep us interested, for that is the stuff of which politics is made. That and a smile.

Get Going

Talking about lotteries, people would support one for hospitals and homes for the old and training centres for those that can do something to help themselves. The March of Dimes is on the go for more funds to help out with their funds, and others are to follow, that's sure.

No one wants big prizes like the Irish but at least it would be a fund to help all these organizations and God knows they all need the help.

Our servants we put in Ottawa raised their own pay just with a pen and then say food and all is going up all the time, but the pensioner has to carry on the best he or she can.

The veterans of both wars still need a big boost in their small cheques; they just can't buy what they want in the way of clothes and other things needed for their comfort. So let's get something going at once.

President Confirms Faculty Positions

The nucleus of an administration staff will be waiting for Dr. Malcolm Taylor when he formally assumes his duties as president of the University of Victoria.

Dr. Taylor, who is completing his term as principal of the University of Alberta's Calgary campus, recommended several new appointments this week, which have been confirmed by university governors here.

Prof. R. T. Wallace, acting dean of arts and science, was named dean of administration by Judge J. B. Clearihue, chairman of the board.

Dean Wallace will continue to serve as acting dean of arts and science until a permanent appointment is made, probably before July 1, when Dr. Taylor officially takes over as president from acting president Dr. W. H. Hickman.

As the university grows, more deanships are expected, officials say.

Day in the Legislature

MLA Assails Magistrate

Yale NDP MLA William Hartley yesterday asked the government for a thorough investigation of remarks made by Magistrate Les Bewley to an expectant mother, Teresa Koaziz, whom he sentenced to two days in jail for striking a social worker.

He said it would appear from Magistrate Bewley's remark the Vancouver woman could have gone "to a garbage can" to look for food "should never have been made by a man associated with justice."

"I think this is a disgrace and condemnation of the department and the government," Mr. Hartley said.

Liberal MLA Dr. Pat McGeer of Vancouver-Point Grey said a Prince George social worker who protested conditions in a letter to Premier Bennett "was frustrated beyond endurance by the inflexibility and lack of imagination" in B.C.'s social welfare policies. He said Mrs. Brigid Moran's letter aroused everyone's attention to welfare problems "because she is obviously not a malcontent, nor a person of narrow views."

Dr. McGeer also said B.C.'s degree of participation in the federal-provincial vocational cost-sharing plan was the lowest in Canada. While other provinces forged ahead "we were left at the pole."

Frank Rutter, legislative correspondent of the Victoria Times, was elected 1964 president of the legislative press gallery, succeeding Paddy Sherman of the Vancouver Province. Ian McAlpine of the Vancouver Sun is vice-president and Andy Stephen of CHEK-TV, secretary-treasurer.

Farmer Aid Sought

The B.C. Federation of Agriculture asked the provincial government yesterday for wide-ranging measures aimed at helping the B.C. farmer bring his income closer to those of "other segments of society."

A brief submitted to the cabinet said average net income per farm rose to about $3,400 from $2,180 in the period 1951 to 1962. But the $3,400 included $1,750 that would normally be earned in interest on the farmer's capital investment.

The delegation asked for crop insurance protection for farmers in the Peace River area similar to that offered Manitoba and Saskatchewan farmers by their governments, "so that our Peace River farmers could enjoy on a test-area basis the same contributory protection plan available to grain growers elsewhere."

Chief Cheered In Absentia

OTTAWA (CP) — They even stood up, cheered, and waved programs at a flickering television set in their enthusiasm.

About 500 delegates and guests at the Conservative party's annual meeting followed Tuesday's speech of embattled John Diefenbaker by closed-circuit television in the Chateau Laurier drawing room, 100 yards from the main convention hall.

EXCITEMENT HIGH

So high did the excitement and interest mount that the veteran political convention-goers forgot the electronic age and stood up and cheered their leader in absentia.

Mr. Diefenbaker spoke in the main ballroom of the Chateau, which was packed with about 1,000 people, many standing.

GO WITHOUT LUNCH

Some delegates staked out seats two hours before Mr. Diefenbaker spoke, going without lunch to guarantee themselves good vantage points.

Mr. Diefenbaker spoke in front of a blue backdrop and giant pictures of himself and the four Conservative provincial premiers now in office.

SHAKES HANDS

After the speech, Mr. and Mrs. Diefenbaker left the platform and ran into almost a solid wall of well-wishers. It took them 45 minutes to pass through the crowd, shaking hands, before they reached the front door of the hotel.

Typical of the greetings was the leader's encounter with Archie Martin, 94, of Aylmer, Que.

LONG MEMORY

Told Mr. Martin had been in the Yukon gold rush, Mr. Diefenbaker grabbed him by both arms and asked: "Do you remember Pennyfather?"

"Yes," said Mr. Martin.

"He was my first political agent," said Mr. Diefenbaker.

Deal Not Payoff—Kiernan

Space-Age Metal Only Part Of Kiernan Plan

B.C. may have the West's first iron and steel-producing industry and will be in the space-age metal business next year.

In a wide-ranging speech in the legislature yesterday on his departments of mines and recreation and conservation, Kenneth Kiernan said:

- The iron and steel industry is possible in the Queen Charlotte Islands if cheap energy can be found.
- The first mine in North America producing the space-age metal, pure molybdenum, will be started next year by Noranda Explorations at Boss Mountain, 50 miles east of Williams Lake.
- Primary B.C. conservation project for 1964 will be establishment of a 14,000-acre wildlife reserve near Creston.
- Primary purpose of Peace River power development is to industrialize the north, not supply the Vancouver market.
- Ottawa is more than a month overdue on its pledge to file its grounds for offshore mineral rights, probably because it can't find any, and the Liberals should withdraw quietly from the offshore blunder of the Tory government.

Mr. Kiernan said three major iron ore bodies have been found on the Charlottes and a search has started there for coal which would make possible an iron smelter and a steel mill.

IN PRODUCTION

One of the iron properties is in production, shipping concentrates to Japan. Another is in the advanced development stage and the third is still under exploration.

So far, he went on, it is not economically feasible to bring mainland coal to the Islands or to a nearby point on the coast. Good metallurgical coal in B.C. is found only inland.

NEAR ENDAKO

Molybdenum is used extensively in space programs because of its ability to withstand intense heat and friction.

OUTPUT SHOOTS UP

Mr. Kiernan said B.C. mineral production has shot up $70,000,000 since 1961 to $250,000,000 last year. If world markets remain firm, the value could hit $270,000,000 this year.

He said the Creston wildlife reserve covers an area which biologists consider the most important waterfowl habitat in the interior.

PART SANCTUARY

As many as 70,000 waterfowl have been observed in the area at a given time and biologists hope populations of all species can be increased by intensive management.

Part of the area will be a sanctuary and part will be a public shooting ground.

Mr. Kiernan, a B.C. hydro director, said Peace power would go into the provincial grid system but the purpose of developing the river is to stimulate northern economic expansion.

With cheap power available, the minister said, that part of B.C. running from Dawson Creek to Fort St. John will "take off like the Hallelujah Chorus."

Mines Minister Kiernan yesterday emphatically denied a $9,000,000 natural gas purchase contract between B.C. Hydro and Westcoast Transmission Co. had been a political pay off.

Mr. Strachan said Mr. McMahon always had his price and the Social Credit government always paid it.

Mr. Kiernan said the contract, announced in January, was beneficial to B.C. Hydro as well as some assistance to Westcoast in financing its $50,000,000 to $60,000,000 pipeline extension in northern B.C.

★ ★ ★

The minister, a Hydro director, said if the contract hadn't been good for the Crown power authority he wouldn't have signed it.

"We make our deals at arm's length at all times with all people," he told the House.

He said the contract didn't make the Westcoast proposal economically feasible—but it helped.

At the same time, Hydro had been relieved of the necessity of buying more costly bunker fuel, of paying carrying charges on bunker fuel inventory and of building new bunker fuel storage facilities.

Mr. Kiernan said the contract was extremely beneficial to Hydro because it produced "peaking" fuel for the thermal plant.

This was usually costly because millions of cubic feet might be required for 24 hours and then none for a week.

He said once a major transmission line is built it must start moving gas right away or "the interest will eat you up almost overnight."

★ ★ ★

Hydro, like any Crown agency, was interested in encouraging industrial development in the province.

The power authority, he said, would look foolish operating its own industrial development department if it rejected out-of-hand an opportunity to foster industrial development.

Martin Today

Health Minister Martin will open the debate in the legislature at 2 p.m. today. Other speakers will be Anthony Gargrave (NDP, Mackenzie) and Charles MacDorley (SC, Burnaby). No night sitting is scheduled.

Toronto Market Meanders

TORONTO (CP)—The stock market meandered through a dull day Tuesday with volume the lowest since Dec. 30 of last year.

Seesaw Continues

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market seesaw continued with another mild movement Tuesday. Both the popular averages and the market statistics pointed slightly lower.

Brokers said the performance of most blue chips was regarded as firm. Many of these posted gains while those declining kept their losses within bounds. Heavy selling in the volatile issues did not upset the blue chips unduly, brokers noted.

The market, thus, was continuing about the same kind of action which has marked its course for more than a week—a "two-way" performance without any clear - cut emphasis anywhere in particular.

$412,600,000 Surplus Biggest in 11 Years

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian exports shot ahead 10 per cent in 1963 to produce a year-end trade surplus estimated at $412,600,000, the biggest in 11 years.

It followed surpluses of $180,000,000 in 1962 and $125,000,000 in 1961. Prior to that, Canada had a string of deficits in the 1953-60 period. The previous high surplus was $421,000,000 in 1952.

LATE BOOM

Preliminary figures issued yesterday by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics indicated that besides the late-1963 boom in sales of grain to the Communist bloc, the year-round improvement resulted mainly from the lower external value of the Canadian dollar which was devalued to 92½ cents in U.S. funds in May, 1962.

NINE PER CENT

DBS said the rise in exports to a record $6,980,000,000 was due almost entirely to an increase in real volume of shipments, up nine per cent from 1962. Average export prices rose only one per cent in the same period.

The reverse was true for imports. They rose to a record $6,567,500,000, up 4.9 per cent from a year earlier. DBS said the gain resulted mainly from higher import prices, up by about four per cent on the average. Physical volume of imports was only one per cent higher than in 1962.

Grain Sale To Reds Contributed

* * *

Meanwhile, DBS estimates for the fourth quarter of 1963 showed a strong surge in Canadian imports.

They were 15.5 per cent higher than in the same quarter of 1962, outstripping a corresponding rise of 14.7 per cent in exports—despite the fact that the impact of the wheat sales to Russia was felt mainly in this period.

KEY FACTORS

Fourth-quarter imports from the United States were 14.1 per cent higher than a year earlier. Key factors were higher arrivals of auto parts and engines, and a sizable gain in imports of tractors and farm equipment — probably reflecting higher farm income on the Prairies. Canadian exports to the U.S. were up 4.2 per cent in the same period.

Nevertheless, Canadian trade with all countries in the fourth quarter produced a surplus of exports over imports of $176,400,000, an increase from $164,800,000 in fourth-quarter 1962.

Meanwhile, the Canadian trade surplus with Britain continued to rise, reaching $487,400,000—an increase of $130,500,000 from the 1962 surplus of $356,900,000.

Canadian trade with the rest of the Commonwealth in 1963 produced a $6,800,000 deficit compared with the 1962 surplus of $17,100,000.

MAIN REASON

Main reason for this shift was a sharp increase in imports of sugar and bauxite from these countries, pushing up total imports by 27.4 per cent to $405,800,000. Canadian exports to the same group rose 18.9 per cent to $399,100,000.

Expedition Icepack

At 65 Below Zero It All Freezes

By DON GAIN

Everything freezes at 65 below zero, John O'Malia said yesterday when he talked to me by ham radio from Prince Gustav Adolf Sea in the Northwest Territory.

John is radio technician on the Pacific Naval Laboratory expedition Icepack V which is recording background noises under Arctic ice to assist in underwater navigation and submarine detection.

TWO WEEKS

It was two weeks ago yesterday that I said goodbye to the four-man expedition at Isachsen, NWT, about 2,000 miles northeast of Victoria. I was a passenger on the RCAF Hercules aircraft which flew them from Patricia Bay to Isachsen by way of Namao, Alberta.

John O'Malia's voice came clear and strong over the 2,000-odd miles from the Arctic listening post where the PNL expedition has set up camp on the ice.

FAINT GLOW

"We are about 30 miles southeast of Isachsen," he said, "and about five miles south of Reindeer Cape. There is a faint glow in the sky."

The time was 11 a.m. in Victoria, noon at the icebound camp.

"At these temperatures there are extremely odd circumstances when you get ice in the air and in the fuel. We are drilling down to the water and the water gets on everything and freezes."

The men talked to their wives yesterday thanks to PNL electronics foreman Robert Robson who has made a hobby of talking to isolated Arctic stations in his lunch hour.

ABOUT A YEAR

"I've been doing it about a year," he said. "The men up there get tired of talking to each other all year and they like to talk to somebody else."

He goes on the air at 7 p.m. Greenwich Mean Time and the calls come in from Mould Bay, Tule, Isachsen, Eureka, Resolute Bay, Alert, Cambridge Bay, Pond Inlet, and Inuvik.

"Bill Sawchuck from Port Alberni is up in Mould Bay," he said. "We hook up the phone and he calls family and friends at home and Vancouver.

"If anybody wants to try to talk to Expedition Icepack V, the call sign is VE7KO/VE8, the frequency is 14.130 megacycles and the best time to try is at 7 p.m. GMT," Mr. Robson said.

Columbia Deal Fine For U.S.—Harding

New Democratic Party power critic Randolph Harding said last night the Columbia agreement is a wonderful deal — for Uncle Sam.

Out of it, he claimed, the U.S. gets $1,000,000,000 worth of free industrial land, elimination of flooding damage running as high as $50,000,000 a year, plus power at 3.5 mills.

How can the U.S. be getting its Columbia project power at 3.5 mills, he asked, when the government is claiming it is getting 5.3 mills to build the dams?

"People in this country think we have Uncle Sam on the rack and skinned him alive," Mr. Harding told the House.

SOMEONE ELSE

"But I think Uncle Sam had someone else on the rack," he added, looking at Premier Bennett.

He said the Columbia project was going to flood out some Canadians but it would create valuable tracts of new industrial land south of the border because this land would never be flooded again.

NEW DEAL

In spite of the alleged advantages of the new Columbia deal, Mr. Harding said, there were certain things which still puzzled him.

One was the government's claim that it netted the government 5.3 mills for B.C.'s share of the downstream power entitlement.

ENOUGH MONEY

A few years ago, Mr. Harding said, Premier Bennett had claimed that five mills per kilowatt hour for 20 years would give B.C. enough money to build all the treaty dams and the full cost of Mica Creek generation—without including the $69,000,000 to be paid to the province for flood control.

Now, he continued, the premier was claiming he got 5.3 mills, but it would only pay for the dams and half of the Mica Creek generation and this package included the $69,000,000 flood control money.

TWO YEARS

"This amazes me, that within two years this discrepancy can take place," the Kaslo-Slocan member said.

He demanded that the government produce a chart to show how the U.S. Columbia payment of $345,000,000 can be parlayed into $501,000,000 over the life of the project—the ultimate return to B.C. claimed by the government.

Mr. Harding asked the government to show generosity in dealing with British Columbians whose lands would be flooded by the project.

Recompense should be generous and assistance in relocation should be provided.

Sporting 52 sparkling examples of the latest cars, along with a starry entertainment group headed by singer Dennis Day, the Victoria International Auto Show opened a five-day run yesterday in Memorial Arena. Highways Minister Gaglardi officially launched the affair at 7 p.m.

McGavin Closing Down

One of Victoria's biggest bakeries is to effect a complete shut-down on the baking side from March 1, H. D. Mitchell, manager of McGavin-Toastmaster Limited, disclosed last night.

The bakery, at 2629 Prior, will lay off 10 to 20 per cent of its staff—between 10 and 15 employees—but will try to retain as many as possible, said Mr. Mitchell.

"We regret this move, but due to the all-round increased costs of production we cannot operate economically," said Mr. Mitchell. "We are doing this in preference to raising our prices.

"From March 1, bread will be delivered by ferry from Vancouver."

Gusts Tilt Citizens

While Victoria pedestrians had to lean into winds gusting as high as 73 miles an hour Tuesday, today they may walk upright. From yesterday's average speed of 54 miles an hour, the wind is predicted to drop to 15 today.

Surprisingly little trouble developed from Tuesday's high winds.

B.C. Hydro reported three interruptions to service—on West Saanich Road, on Sooke Road near East Sooke, and at Cherry Point.

Ship Jobs Coming Says Groos

Victoria shipyards are certain to get a share of a major shipbuilding program being planned by the federal government, Victoria Liberal MP David Groos told a luncheon meting of the Victoria Kiwanis Club yesterday.

Mr. Groos said that when Defence Minister Hellyer brings down his "white paper" sometime before April it will contain details of a shipbuilding program.

"We'll get our share of the contracts," said Mr. Groos. "We build ships here as well as any place in Canada."

Hockey Refs Blasted

Soft Ice, Hard Words

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Sports Editor

INNSBRUCK, Austria (CP)—International Ice Hockey Federation officials held a series of emergency meetings Tuesday to consider charges of incompetent refereeing and soft ice conditions in the Winter Olympics hockey tournament.

Kaur Hauser of Switzerland, chief referee of the IIHF, it was learned, called all 20 referees on the mat early Tuesday after Canada defeated the United States 8-6 in a game marred by 14 penalties.

Hauser called the meeting after he received a complaint from Art Potter, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

"We aren't crying," Potter said. "Every country in Olympic hockey is in the same boat.

"The referees are inefficient and unfortunately we have to put up with them," he added. "They don't use their heads. It seems futile to spoil games with petty penalties, such as every country here has been getting.

ALL SUFFER

"Everybody is suffering. Monday night, when the Americans were losing, they began to spear our boys who protected themselves and were given unnecessary penalties."

Potter said that Rev. David Bauer, coach of Canada's team which now has a 4-0 record in the seven-game round-robin tournament, had "shown admirable restraint until Monday night when the refereeing became too much for him." The Canadians received nine of the 14 penalties and Father Bauer said the officiating was "incredible."

Meanwhile, John F. Bunny Ahearne, IIHF president, met with Prof. Friedl Wolfgang, general secretary of the Austrian Olympic Committee, to complain about the ice surface at Olympia Stadium where hockey and figure skating are held.

"The figure skaters want soft ice and hard ice is needed for hockey," Ahearne said in an interview later. "I simply pointed out that the IIHF interest is in the players and if ice conditions aren't satisfactory for hockey we would take necessary action."

He refused to say what this action would be.

Russians Trounce Finns; Czechs, Swedes Advance

INNSBRUCK, Austria (CP)—The Soviet Union's heavily-favored Olympic hockey team went on a goal-scoring spree Tuesday, whipping the weak Finland squad 10-0 for its fourth straight victory in the Winter Olympics hockey championships.

Two other top contenders also won handily Tuesday. Sweden routing the winless German team 10-2 and Czechoslovakia downing Switzerland 5-1 after trailing the Swiss 1-0 until the second period.

The Soviet victory moved the Russians into a first-place tie in the standings with Canada, which was idle along with the United States Tuesday. Each has a clean 4-0 record.

The Czechs and the Swedes are tied for third with identical 3-1 marks.

With three more playing days—including the climactic Friday and Saturday clashes involving the four leading teams—remaining, this was the picture at the top of the standings:

	W	L	T	F	A	Pts
Russia	4	0	0	37	6	8
Canada	4	0	0	23	9	8
C'slovakia	3	1	0	25	9	6
Sweden	3	1	0	25	9	6

All eight teams are in action today with Canada meeting Finland, Russia meeting Germany, Sweden facing Switzerland and Czechoslovakia going against the defending-champion United States.

REST THURSDAY

No games are scheduled Thursday, but all eight will play again Friday and Saturday.

The Canadians, who already have beaten Sweden 3-1, face the Czechs Friday and the Russians Saturday. Russia, with a 7-5 win over Czechoslovakia among its victories, faces Sweden Friday and the Czechs and Sweden meet in the final game of the tournament Saturday night.

Those are the games on which the championship rides since the other four teams—including the U.S. which lost 5-1 to Russia and 8-6 to Canada—are already out of the running.

INNSBRUCK, Austria (CP)—The United States cracked the Soviet Union's monopoly on Olympic speedskating Tuesday and got its first gold medal of the ninth Winter Olympic Games as Terry McDermott skated to victory in record-breaking time in the men's 500-metre race.

The Russians were not to be shut out elsewhere, however, and added their seventh gold medal in as many days as world champion Valdimir Melanin won the biathlon, an event combining cross-country skiing and rifle shooting.

BIG HARVEST

Germany had the day's biggest medal harvest, winning five of the six awarded in the men's and women's luge singles, or toboggan racing, which is on the Winter Olympic program for the first time.

The first three places in the men's luge were filled by Germans, with Thomas Koehler taking the gold medal. Ortrun Enderlein of Germany won the women's championship and a teammate took the silver medal.

ONLY FOUR FINALS

These were the only four finals on the program Tuesday and Ralf Olin of Calgary, 39th in the 500-metre speedskating, was the only Canadian entry in them. Doug Anakin of Montreal 36th after last week's first two runs in the four-run men's luge, withdrew and Canada had no competitors here for the biathlon or women's luge.

Meanwhile, on the figure skating ice, a European sweep of the men's singles medals shaped up as Germany's Manfred Schnelldorfer, Czechoslovakia's Karol Divin and Alain Calmat of France placed one-two - three after completion of the five compulsory figures.

The decisive freeskating, where Calmat is expected to excel and probably overtake the other two for the gold medal, is scheduled Thursday.

City Quartet Certain To Capture Seniors

Rinks skipped by Abe Libby and A. Jeffrey yesterday won their fourth straight games to qualify for the final in "A" event of the four-event bonspiel.

Libby bested Guy Philp of Chilliwack in the semi-finals while Jeffrey outscored A. H. Davidson of Nanoose in the other half of the draw. Libby and Jeffrey meet this afternoon at 2:45, when all other three finals will be played.

TWO VISITORS

However, two visiting quartets will battle it out for "B" event honors. Bob McLean of Duncan reached the final by defeating Charlie Hodgson of Victoria in one semi-final, while N. Coulter of Vancouver bested H. McDonald of Vancouver in the other.

Going into last night's late draw, play had reached the semi-finals of "C" event and the quarter-finals of "D" event.

Three Victoria rinks were in the "C" semi-finals. Pete McIntyre and Ewert Beirnes were to meet in one semi-final while Harvey Lutz took on Jack Graham of White Rock in the other.

Stone and Co. Not Left Out

VERNON (CP)—Reg Stone is still alive in his bid for a seventh provincial curling championship.

The Trail veteran, who was once again beaten out in zone play, made it once more through the "back door" provided by the B.C. Curling Association bonspiel when he reached the fours of "A" event Tuesday afternoon with a 7-6 win over Jim Feeney of Rossland.

Stone was stopped there by Buzz McGibney, his one-time second who won out in Stone's zone. McGibney remained unbeaten and reached the "A" final with a 9-7 victory.

REACHED FOURS

McGibney now meets George Cmolik, who defeated Kelowna clubmate Bob McCaugherty, 9-8, in the other semi-final. Both Cmolik and McCaugherty reached the BCAA playdowns by reaching the fours of "A" event.

Lionel Stokes, a former Yukon zone winner from Whitehorse who didn't make it through the zone this year, also made it through the back door by reaching the semi-finals of "B" event. He defeated Bill Mullen of Armstrong, 11-6.

CLOSED DOOR

Zone winners closed the door on other rinks in "B" event as Dick Topping of Osoyoos, Al Harris of Quesnel and Joe McKinnon of Kamloops became the other semi-finalists.

That left 12 rinks—seven of them zone winners—qualified for the playdown which will decide the BCCA representative who will play the Pacific Coast Curling Association champion for the provincial title in Victoria on Feb. 10 and 11.

However, they will be joined by several more, perhaps as many as eight more, with quarter-finalists in "C" event also gaining back-door entry if needed. Play in "C" event was out to the 16s going into last night's late draws.

IT BEATS ME

By Jim Tang

Everyone must know the story of the new-image Canadian Olympic hockey team—of how a Catholic priest with a fine hockey background was given the job of assembling the best young talent from all across Canada to mould into a representative team over a period of several months.

The idea was not quite so much to win an Olympic championship as it was to send over a club of which we could be proud, win or lose. More important than the gold medal, although there would, of course, be a real try for that, was to leave Europeans with a different impression of Canadians than they had been getting from the type of hockey players we had been sending to Olympic and world tournaments.

It was a bold and intelligent approach to a problem which has been ours for some time, and Father Bauer has certainly done his part in the effort to make it work.

There has been more interest, particularly at home, in the Canadian Olympic hockey team than for some time. And while Canadian fans were to a large extent dubious about thier club's chances for a gold medal, they cared more than usual and most acknowledged that under the circumstances and the limits imposed by Olympic regulations, we were at least doing all that it was possible to do.

And the experiment got off to a rousing Olympic start when Canada humbled Sweden, the home of hockey's unfairest, least-ethical and loudest-wailing fans and officials. Perhaps not everyone feels this way but in this corner, that 3-1 conquest rates right up there with a gold medal-deciding win over Russia.

* * *

But there was more to it than just getting some considerable revenge over a nation which, more than any other, had done what it could to discredit Canadian hockey. The Swedes were rated next to Russia in the Olympic tournament but were beaten by a team of youngsters with the kind of dedicated determination that all too often is missing from our efforts on international scenes. We beat a top-notch European team with its own best weapon.

Then the Swedes, unwittingly and rather ironically, did something more for the experiment when forward Kari Oberg, reacting as his club usually does when things aren't going well for it, threw a broken stick which struck Father Bauer and opened a forehead cut. It set off a chain of events which has done more for the Canadian hockey image than anything in the last few years.

Perhaps no other coach but Father Bauer could have done it but the coaching priest just about assured the success of the Canadian hockey experiment by his reaction. He kept his irate players under control and freely forgave Oberg his transgression.

Father Bauer's exemplary conduct smoothed the way for and gave weight to the not-unexpected reaction from the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, voiced by president Art Potter, who is said to be milder, fairer and more intelligent that some of his predecessors.

In the old course of events, the inevitable CAHA protest was never even accepted in Canada, much less Europe, where it only added fuel to the fire always being built around Canadian hockey teams. This time, it won respectful attention and, amazingly, Oberg, and a game official were suspended.

* * *

Just the same, old conditions apparently prevailed Monday when the Canadians played the U.S. team. Swedish and Swiss referees, obviously doing what they could to prevent a Canadian win, refereed so atrociously that this time even Father Bauer couldn't find the charity to excuse it.

"This," he said after the game, "is a real snow job. "I just can't understand it. One game, okay. Two games okay and maybe even three games. But how much can you take?"

Astoundingly, and in absolute proof of the stature Father Bauer has gained, what amounted to a Canadian protest again some some action. Kurt Hauser of Switzerland, chief referee of the International Ice Hockey Federation, yesterday called an emergency meeting to discuss game officiating in the Olympic tournament.

Perhaps it won't bring any results but there is triumph in that there is at long last at least some evidence that Canadian protests may even be judged on their merits instead of being used as propaganda paint to further the effort of painting us black.

If this is true, then our Olympic hockey club is already an outstanding success and we can look ahead to real and interesting, and amicable, world hockey. But if nationalism again prevails, there is only one course left for Canada. Let the Europeans skate by themselves on their little pond.

Bronze 'Gong' Worth Only $800

By United Press International

INNSBRUCK—What is the value of an Olympic gold medal?

This is a shocking question for a believer in true amateur sports ideals, but there are many reasons to assume that some athletes want more than just honors.

Take the skiing heroes. Everybody expects them to produce top performances, but nobody asks who is going to pay their salaries when they train and move from one ski resort to the other at least six months a year.

It's no secret that the ski makers are offering financial support.

But there must also be a price for an Olympic gold medal in return for the enormous publicity value of an Olympic victory.

Bronze—$800.

These figures have been supplied by reliable sources although none of the ski makers would ever admit that such an agreement was reached.

The sources say the top-ranking ski makers got together shortly before the Olympics to agree on a common basis of payment for Olympic medals. They did not want anyone to make high bids in an effort to lure top racers away from the firm to the other. So they laid down the three figures and agreed to stick to them.

Of course, any manufacturer can make "additional gifts" or presents to his top ace if he or she grabs a gold medal. The publicity value is much greater than dollars. Therefore, it is not unusual to present a top racer with a free trip around the world—or a high-powered sports car.

At a time when the number of skiers is increasing from year to year all over the world, ski manufacturers have to get their products up with the winning top honors. It's big business.

Larscheid Through

VANCOUVER (CP) — Tom Larscheid, the hard-luck halfback of the British Columbia Lions, has told the club to count him out of their football future.

The pint-sized hustler from Utah State, who suffered injuries to both legs last year after a brilliant rookie season, walked into the office of the Western Conference champions Tuesday and told coach Dave Skrien:

"I'm all through."

Off-Track Bets Considered Legal

VANCOUVER (CP) — The chairman of the B.C. Racing Commission says he believes off-track betting is legal.

Glen McDonald, also the city coroner, was commenting on a statement made in Toronto by S. Tupper Bigelow, chairman of the Ontario Racing Commission, that such betting is legal under the criminal code of Canada.

"As a magistrate and chairman of the racing commission I would say Bigelow is quite correct," McDonald said. "And I personally see nothing wrong with it providing it doesn't detract from attendance at the race track."

He said he belives people should be allowed to make bets off the track as long as they are made through pari mutuel betting machines.

Half-Million So Far

INNSBRUCK, Austria (Reuters)—More than 500,000 persons have watched the first six days of the Winter Olympic Games, the organizers announced Tuesday.

It was expected that by the time the 12-day games end Sunday, more than 1,000,000 persons will have seen the 34 events, breaking all records for a Winter Olympiad.

The figure - skating competitions in the ice stadium have attracted the biggest crowds so far, with an attendance figure of 190,000 for the first six days. The alpine ski events in the Lizum Valley have been watched by 180,000.

Golfers Demands Rapped

'Worse Than Capone Mob'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Professional golfers are making such "outrageous demands" that the Bing Crosby tournament may not be held in 1965, Larry Crosby, tournament director, said Monday.

Crosby, speaking from his Beverly Hills headquarters, said the U.S. professional Golfers Association has asked for "75 per cent of all television money on tournament sponsored events.

"This is worse than the Capone mob moving in," Crosby said.

Crosby said the PGA was demanding most of the profits that went to charity last month and is commanding the sponsors to step aside, and allow the players themselves to run the television.

"He will turn them down flat and if they don't like it we'll pull the tournament out from under them," said Crosby.

PGA officials are to meet this weekend in Phoenix with 25 other members of the International Golf Sponsor's association to negotiate 1965 contracts.

"We are unable to do a thing until a solution is reached in Phoenix," Crosby said. "Until then we cannot negotiate with television network or the sponsor.

"At this time everything is very much up in the air."

However, he said, "I intend to go to Arizona personally in an attempt to handle this. If they persist in taking all but 25 per cent of the television revenue I have authorization to throw in the sponge."

Crosby said the tournament is a benefit tournament and depends heavily on profits from television to support such groups as the Boy Scouts of America, Monterey Peninsula Council for Retarded Children and other associations.

Trimble Eagles Coach?

PHILADELPHIA (CP-AP)—Jim Trimble has been mentioned as a candidate for the coaching job of Philadelphia Eagles, a team he once led in the National Football League.

Trimble, who came to Canada in 1956 to coach Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Canadian Football League and now is coach of Montreal Alouettes, was among those mentioned Monday when Jerry Wolman, new owner of the Eagles, disclosed he is considering at least six persons to replace Nick Skorich who has been released.

AT THE 19th

With Harry Young

One of the interesting new tournaments listed this year for British Columbia, and one which because of its proximity will be of interest to Vancouver Island golfers, is the Fraser Valley Open, due to be played at Beach Grove, July 4 and 5.

Andy Wallace, who is Zone 6 (Fraser Valley) director on the BCGA, says that prize money of about $4,000 is available for the prosection of this event.

Other mainland events of interest to Island golfers is the B.C. Amateur to be played this year at Kelowna for the first time. Dates are June 22-27. It will be followed by the annual Ogopogo tournament on the same course.

The B.C. Parent and Child tournament is scheduled for Seymour Golf Club in North Vancouver May 3, and the B.C. Junior championship this time goes to the long, tough Vancouver Golf and Country Club at Coquitlam on July 6-8.

* * *

In the larger Canadian cities, such as Vancouver, there are many golfers who play regularly on public courses, and who because of circumstances are unable to belong to the private club that would make them members of the Royal Canadian Golf Association.

This in itself is unfortunate, because the RCGA aims to look after the interests of golfers throughout Canada without discrimination, and the more people who can be brought into the fold the better.

The main interest of the public parks player is that if he becomes an affiliate member of the RCGA he then has the right to enter tournaments where an RCGA certified handicap is an essential.

The Ontario Golf Association has already devised a scheme to bring public course players into the fold, and last week the B.C. Golf Association at its annual general meeting at Point Grey gave its blessing to a similar plan in B.C.

So far details as to how the plan will operate has not yet been worked out, but the handicap card will be available at roughly the same price ($1.50) which is paid annually by individual members of BCGA clubs.

It is possible that there will be several hundred such applicants from the Vancouver area, but in Victoria where most golfers have access to membership of private and public courses the need meantime is not large.

It should be noted that the affiliate membership does not cover players who are green fee players on private courses unless the club on which they play has a waiting list and they are on that list.

At both Cedar Hill and Ardmore, which are open to the public on payment of green fees, there are affiliated private clubs using these courses, and members of these private groups already have the right to full membership in the RCGA and the BCGA.

Empty Net Invites Disaster
Current Average 1 for 33

By MARVEN MOSS

MONTREAL (CP) — Hey, coach! Here's a piece of advice next time you're thinking of yanking the goalie for an extra forward to get you that tying goal:

Don't do it.

ALL AWARE

There is a strong suspicion that virtually all members of the hockey coaching fraternity are aware of this implication.

But how can you expect a guy to stand on the sidelines and do nothing — apart from grimace and grind the chewing gum—while his team blows a game?

SHEER FOLLY

Statistics based on National Hockey League play so far this season bear out rather conclusively that it's sheer folly to take the gamble, nonetheless.

For one thing, they show that in the majority of cases nothing happens either way. But when a goal is scored, it's far more likely to be a product of the team that's one-up, anyway.

33 TIMES

In the 187 games played so far, the occasion where a goalie might be lifted—a situation where a team is a goal down with scant seconds to play—has arisen 33 times.

Ron Andrews, the NHL's rookie statistician, says the stratagem is normally applied in about 90 per cent of these situations.

Only once has it worked.

That was Dec. 4 in Chicago when Bobby Hull beat Boston's Eddie Johnston with a 20-footer 31 seconds before the game ended to give the Black Hawks a 2-2 tie with the Bruins after Glenn Hall was removed for an additional Chicago attacker.

But eight other times pulling out the goalie has wound up simply a prelude to the club in front dumping the puck into that wide-open net.

IN ANGUISH

Hall, Toronto's Don Simmons and New York's Jacques Plante have all watched in anguish from the bench while the opposition collected gift goals twice against their clubs.

Johnston and Montreal's Charlie Hodge meanwhile have been sideline victims once each.

It must hurt badly. The goals are charged up against the netminder's record in the competition for the Vezina Trophy which goes to the goaltender who has played the most games for the club with the best defensive record.

HALL TOP GOALIE

Hall and the Black Hawks are still in front after the week's play, yielding an average of 2.26 goals a game to the opposition, down from 2.28 the previous week. The man they call Mr. Goalie gave up six goals in three games.

The Maple Leafs with Bower and Don Simmons moved ahead of Montreal and Hodge into the No. 2 spot, Bower dropping the team average six percentage points to 2.52. He was beaten five times in three games.

On the offensive side, Chicago's Stan Mikita boosted his league-leading total to 67 points with a six-point week in the individual scoring competition. He scored five goals and added an assist.

Two Reserves From Oak Bay

Two members of Oak Bay Wanderers, Don Burgess and Lyn Paterson, have been named as reserves for the B.C. all-star rugby team which will play New Zealand All-Blacks Feb. 22 in Vancouver's Empire Stadium.

Earlier, Alan Rees and Jim Ryan of Cowichan were selected for the team, and Cowichan's Tom Brown was picked for the under-25 side to meet the All-Blacks in Empire Stadium Feb. 20.

Garden Notes

Invite Spring In

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

Flowers in the house can be a great joy at this season of the year. I hope Santa Claus brought at least one flowering houseplant to your home at Christmas time but, if he slipped up on this, there is no need to get along without the charm of living flowers. A careful search around the garden is almost sure to turn up the odd plant which can be dug up, potted and brought indoors to provide some bloom.

Among the crocuses, snowdrops and such early-flowering bulbs, it is often possible to find some precocious individuals which are showing buds and are on the point of blooming. These may be lifted carefully with the hand trowel, set into a pretty pottery bowl and the surface covered with fresh green forest moss to provide a grand centrepiece for the dinner table. After the plants have served their purpose, it is an easy matter to return them to their proper place in the garden.

* * *

Primula Wanda is another little charmer which lends itself to this sort of treatment and doesn't seem to suffer the least harm from its stay indoors during its flowering period. Wanda isn't for the dinner table though, for the lovely deep purple of their blooms becomes a rather unpleasant magenta shade when viewed under the yellow rays of electric lights.

Did you ever try cutting out a square of periwinkle—vinca minor—with a sharp spade and bringing it indoors in an ornamental bowl or shallow dish? In the warmth of the house this plant will burst into bloom, often within a week, and provide a welcome breath of spring in the darkest days of winter. Branches of japonica, forsythia and flowering cherry can also be cut and will bloom freely if arranged in vases of water and held at room temperature.

* * *

Lily of the valley can be forced indoors also. Dig up a clump of the roots, and if the soil is muddy, dry them off for a couple of days on newspapers in the basement, then shake off the soil and separate them. Select only the ones with nice plump growing points for potting up—the younger plants with sharp-pointed "pips" or growth buds are too immature for forcing. Clean your selected plants, then trim the roots back to about three inches in length, for you won't have enough depth of soil in your pots for longer roots.

A wonderful stimulant for these lily of the valley roots is to soak them in lukewarm water for half a day. A temperature of 100 degrees is ideal—the warmth should be just barely perceptible to the hands—and the temperature can be maintained by standing the bowl on a warm radiator or on the top of an operating TV or radio set. Don't use the kitchen stove even at the burner's lowest setting—one of my neighbors stewed the daylights out of her roots, then wondered why they wouldn't grow!

* * *

After their four-hour warm bath, the roots can be potted up. Coming out of the water, the fine roots and root hairs will clump together like a girl's hair as she leaves the swimming pool, and for this reason I like to pat the roots dry between sheets of blotting paper or absorbent paper towels so they can be spread out in the soil. A five-inch pot will take six roots nicely, five around the edge and one in the middle.

The purchased all-purpose potting soil is good, or you can use a mixture of equal parts good topsoil, peat moss and coarse sand. Plant with the fibrous roots fairly deep and well spread out, but with the white "pips" only just barely covered. Keep in a cool, dark place until growth commences, then grow on in a sunny window of a coolish room.

ART BUCHWALD Solves Thorny Problem

Why Not Three Chinas?

WASHINGTON—This business of recognizing Red China is getting very complicated. Everything was going along fine until Gen. de Gaulle decided to recognize her. Then everything went wrong.

Red China told de Gaulle that if he recognized her he couldn't recognize Nationalist China. But Gen. de Gaulle insists he must recognize two Chinas as a condition for recognizing Red China.

At the same time de Gaulle seems to be doing his utmost to get Chiang's China to break off diplomatic relations with France so he won't be bothered with two Chinese ambassadors.

* * *

The United States very wisely recognizes only one China, or Nationalist China, which isn't China at all, but Formosa. The reasoning behind this is quite simple. Red China is giving the U.S. so much trouble in Southeast Asia that it's better to pretend she doesn't exist.

If the U.S. recognized Red China, which consists of 800,000,000 people, then it would be letting down Nationalist China, which has a population of 11,613,000.

Washington has a big stake in Nationalist China, but none whatsoever in Red China except getting in a war with them over Indo-China, which is now called Viet Nam.

* * *

It must be pointed out that recognition of a country doesn't guarantee you're going to have better relations with them. The Soviet Union was the first country to recognize Red China and they seem to be worse off than anybody.

Then what are the advantages of recognizing Red China? The greatest one is that if the U.S. recognizes her it can then call her names. It's very difficult to call anyone names whose existence is in doubt.

But there are disadvantages to recognizing her. Besides alienating Chiang Kai-shek, you also run the tremendous risk that Red China might do a complete about-face and, in exchange for a co-existence policy, demand foreign aid.

The United States just can't afford to take care of 800,000,000 starving Chinese at this time. The big fear then is not that the Red Chinese would remain at odds with Washington, but that they would try to adjust their differences, which would force the U.S. to help them out.

* * *

What is the solution? Quite simple. There should be a third China set up somewhere, which would have nothing to do with the other two Chinas. This would be a Neutralist China, neither Communist nor Nationalist. It could be located in Leichtenstein or in Switzerland. This China would be palable to everyone and recognition of it would not be contingent on the recognition of the other two Chinas.

The more Chinas there are in the world the happier everyone should be.

Moll Flanders Next

PARIS (NANA) — I met England's most successful movie director, Terence Young, who directed Dr. No and From Russia, With Love. "What next?" I asked him. What next is Moll Flanders, by Daniel Defoe, author of Robinson Crusoe. Terence described Moll as "a female Tom Jones." And Defoe's lively tale is said to be almost as erotic as Fanny Hill, whose fate is now being decided in the British courts.

* * *

Darryl Zanuck was in and out of Paris to confer with Sir Carol Reed, who directs The Agony and the Ecstasy, with Charlton Heston as Michelangelo and Rex Harrison playing the Pope. The leading lady will probably be Anouk Aimee. And the picture will start in mid-June.

* * *

Irina Demick, by the way, is in Paris getting ready to star in A Time for Love with Jacques Charrier, for director-producer Marcel Carne. I hear good things about Irina's performance in The Visit with Ingrid Bergman and Anthony Quinn.

* * *

* * * * * *

SORAYA, MAX, and FRIEND . . . Romance in the Alps

* * * * * *

Ex-Queen Soraya and Maximillian Schell are now yodelling love songs in the Swiss Alps and the romance is still in full blast. Soraya was with Max in Paris at the Plaza Athenee Hotel, while he finished his picture—Topkapi—with Melina Mercouri.

* * *

The Beatles made a nine-minute newsreel for Pathe News. And wherever it is shown it is billed above the feature film. I hope to see them in Paris to learn first-hand about all this Beatlemania.

The friends of playwright Terence Rattigan will be pleased to hear that his doctor has given him a clean bill of health and he is planning a trip around the world by boat. There had been some disquieting stories.

* * *

Jackie Gleason, who likes to call himself "the fat one," has been haunted for a long time by the idea of playing P. T. Barnum. The screen treatment of The Fabulous Showman has been tailored to Jackie's ample measurements. Blake Edwards will direct.

Space Synopsis

Compiled by CHARLES McDOWELL

This may be a good time for a brief refresher course on American activity in outer space.

Ranger VI, which went to the moon, is an unmanned spacecraft launched by an Atlas-Agena booster, which should not be confused with Saturn or Saturn I or Saturn V.

* * *

Saturn is a planet. Saturn I is the booster that orbited a 20,000-pound payload, including 11,000 pounds of sand. This put the U.S. ahead of the Russians in the space race generally—and far ahead of them in putting sand in space—although they held their lead in the Winter Olympics.

Saturn I is a sort of prototype of Saturn V, which will one day boost a payload to the moon. (Protopopov, on the other hand, is not a prototype of Popov, the Russian cosmonaut. Protopopov is an ice skater, and he won a gold medal.)

Apollo is the name of the project, and also of the spacecraft, that will take the men to the moon after Project Ranger and Project Surveyor have found a place for them to land. It would be well to put Project Surveyor to one side in your mind for a moment.

* * *

Gemini is the name of the project and the capsule that has to do with providing a way for the astronauts to practice for the moon flight while they await the development of Saturn V to boost the Apollo capsule. You may prefer to put Project Gemini over to one side of your mind with Project Surveyor, if you have room over there.

There is no plan to put sand on the moon.

Echo II, which was orbited at about the time of the recent Saturn I and Ranger VI shots, really doesn't have anything to do with them. Echo II is a satellite, a kind of balloon 135 feet in diameter, launched by a Thor-Agena B booster, not to be confused with an Atlas-Agena booster, and inflated aloft.

The trouble with Echo II is that it has become somewhat deflated, and our guess is that the rubber band was not tight enough.

* * *

Echo II has a smaller relative, Echo I, which was put into orbit in 1960 and is still out there, although it is said to look like a prune. Television signals and direct-dialling wrong numbers are bounced off Echo II to points around the world, but you can't tell where anything is going when you try to bounce it off Echo I.

Relay I and Relay II, Telstar II and Syncom II are satellites of a more sophisticated type. . . .

Divorce Reports Bad Joke—Fisher

LIZUM, Austria (UPI)—Singer Eddie Fisher said Tuesday that actress Elizabeth Taylor is the only woman he ever really loved and that insinuations that he was holding up a divorce from her for a $1,000,000 settlement were "a joke—a very bad joke."

"She was the only woman I ever really loved. I don't love her anymore, of course. These statements from her are so terrible." He was referring to statements he has refused to agree to a divorce so that she can marry Richard Burton.

Asked why Miss Taylor and Burton apparently are anxious to get married, Fisher replied: "Elizabeth always wants things to be legitimate."

Betrothed

Daughter of Birmingham factory worker, Profumo scandal figure Mandy Rice-Davies said Tuesday she plans to marry French Baron Pierre Corvello, 26, heir to a $1,400,000 Jamaican sugar fortune, after he divorces his wife, daughter of British brewery magnate Sir Ernest Cain. Mandy, now singing in Munich bar, says she's 18.

City Should Seek New Bank Site

Victoria should make a determined bid to obtain the headquarters of the new Bank of British Columbia, city public works decided yesterday. Ald. A. W. Toone said the new bank should be established in the capital city. "We have the historic old lower town area right on the doorstep of the legislative buildings," he said.

Wage Demands

Saanich Police Seek Parity With Victoria

Saanich police will ask for parity wages with Victoria city police force's 1964 settlement as well as additional holidays and other fringe benefits, the police commission was told last night.

The Saanich force currently is paid two per cent less than their opposite number in the city.

City police this year are seeking parity with Vancouver's police force, an increase of 15 per cent.

2.7 PER CENT

Last year while seeking parity with Vancouver the city police force was awarded a 2.7 per cent increase.

A similar boost for the city this year would mean a 4.7 per cent increase in Saanich providing the Saanich police commission agrees to wage demands

$478 PER MONTH

In addition to the wage demands the Saanich force is asking three weeks holiday after 5 years and four weeks after 15 years service.

THREE WEEKS

Personnel now receive three weeks holidays after eight years and four weeks after 18 years service.

SEEK B.C. AID

The police commission also agreed to join with the city in a request to the attorney-general's department for assistance in payment of board for policemen attending Vancouver police academy.

Board cost of sending a policeman on a 17-week recruit training course amounts to $395.

Dog Hired By Saanich

A tracking dog will be used by Saanich police on an experimental basis with a constable as dogmaster. Const. James White recently completed a three-week course in Vancouver with his own dog. Reeve Stanley Murphy stressed the dog would be used for tracking only and not for crowd control.

Centre Plans Ready

Working drawings for the $200,000 senior citizens' recreation centre in Centennial Square will come up for final approval by city council at a special meeting Thursday.

The committee in charge of overall planning for the square yesterday recommended approval of the drawings presented by architect consultant Clive Campbell.

CIVIC COMPLEX

Mayor R. B. Wilson predicted the completed centre would form a "lovely" addition to the civic complex and committee chairman Ald. A. W. Toone said the facilities it offered will be "as up-to-date as anything of its size in North America."

Project architect Roderick Clack said there were several similar projects in Canada and the U.S. but all of them "very recent."

MAIN FEATURES

Mr. Campbell said that in preparing the design of the centre he studied plans for a recreation centre for the elderly at Menlo Park, Calif. He added that all the main features in that much larger project are duplicated here.

The committee recommended that intsallation of an elevator serving the second floor and power-assisted doors should be included in tenders as alternate items.

The centre contains administration and social areas including an auditorium holding up to 400, games room and library on the ground floor. Upstairs there are craft rooms and a clinic and first aid room.

Prisoners Moved To Colquitz

Fifteen prisoners have been moved into the old Colquitz mental home on Wilkinson Road and more are expected soon, Warden S. A. L. Hamblin said yesterday.

The new inmates are mostly from Vancouver Island and require only minimum security, he said.

Staff from the mental hospital were kept on to run the new jail, and some more men were hired by the attorney-general's department.

Gaglardi Will Check Death Corner Lights

Highways Minister Gaglardi said yesterday he will investigate the need for street lights at the Trans-Canada Highway and Helmcken intersection, where a woman died from an accident on Oct. 29.

A coroner's jury which fixed no blame in the accidental death of Mrs. Mae Preston, passenger in one of the cars involved, added a rider to its verdict — recommending that lights be installed at the intersection.

Residents of nearby View Royal and Strawberry Vale have tried unsuccessfully for a number of years to get the provincial highways department to put lights there.

"I will check this out, and if lights are needed we will put them in," said Mr. Gaglardi.

Sewer Bid Progresses

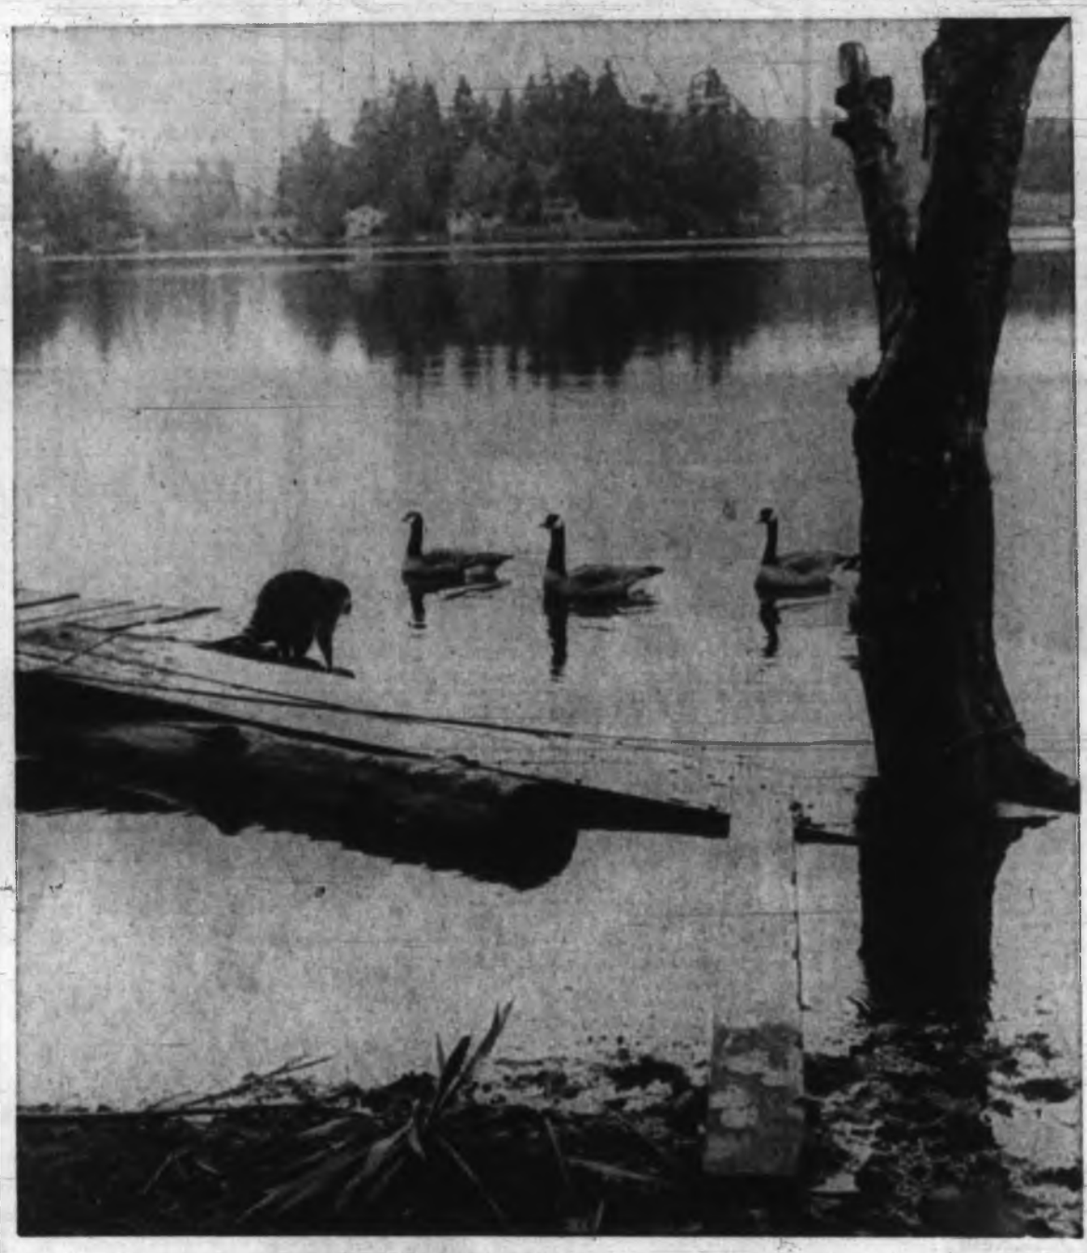
"The drive began this week and should take two weeks," says spokesman R. D. Reid. "We are hoping for around 400 signatures."



Geese Outmanoeuvre Raccoon

Rare meeting between raccoon and Canada Geese at Langford Lake yesterday ended in a stalemate. Frisky raccoon scampered out onto wharf and jumped in after a goose, but the geese just circled around and came back to taunt their tormentor. Raccoon finally gave up, came ashore and went on his merry way.—(Jack Fry)

First of Five Areas

'Tourist Row' Suggested For Paint-Up Facelift

Choice of the "tourist row" on lower Government Street as the first of five downtown areas to receive the proposed paint-up facelift treatment was recommended to city council yesterday.

The beautification committee unanimously approved an immediate start on the project and endorsed a request for $500 to be spent on promotion of the scheme this year.

Ald. A. W. Toone, chairman, said the city had failed in earlier attempts to launch the program because it had tried to cover the entire downtown area at one time.

"This scheme calls for progressive coverage, perhaps over a period of four or five years," he said.

Roderick Clack, special projects and architectural consultant, said concentration of efforts in one small area on Government Street would yield the greatest effect this spring.

He predicted that if the program is vigorously backed by city council and taken up enthusiastically by the business community the next 18 months should see a marked improvement in appearance of large portions of the downtown section.

FIVE AREAS

Mr. Clack warned, however, that even the smallest of the five areas established here is larger than the original Norwich, England, scheme upon which this and other North American programs are patterned.

City manager Dennis Young said there should be no hint of apathy on the part of council if the program is to be successful. Every member of council, he added, must be prepared to sell the scheme to property owners and the general public.

TENTATIVE DATES

Tentative dates set for public meetings to discuss the project with businessmen have been set for March 15 and March 25.

The committee also recommended that $2,400 be spent to provide 480 baskets filled with daffodils to be displayed on downtown streets throughout the period of the spring flower festival now being organized by the Chamber of Commerce.

Ald. Toone said he would like to see a succession of spring flowers, starting with daffodils and progressing through tulips and perhaps wallflowers, providing a continuous show until the summer flower baskets go up June 1.

Mayor R. B. Wilson said this could be considered for 1965, adding that city council must provide a lead for the community in promoting the spring festival as a tourist attraction.

Estimated cost of three spring flower changes is $5,200 in addition to the $8,000 that is already spent each year on the summer flower baskets.

Public works committee recommended that the vacuum cleaner used to remove litter from downtown sidewalks be operated on Mondays in future to clear up paper dropped by Saturday shoppers.

The committee earlier refused to give consideration to a letter of complaint that was signed only "one of many."

Liquid Gas Answer For City

Liquid methane may be the answer to natural gas supply for Victoria and other B.C. points where transmission lines are too costly, Mines Minister Kiernan said Tuesday.

He told the legislature his department has been studying the economic feasibilities of liquid methane in connection with industrial applications.

The studies so far indicate it would be too costly for industries requiring huge amounts of energy but might be practical for residential and light industrial use.

Liquid methane is produced by reducing the temperature of gas to —264 degrees F. and once in liquid state, gas can be economically shipped.

Good Quality Trees Needed for Square

Residents of Greater Victoria are being invited to donate trees to be used in landscaping of Centennial Square.

City parks administrator W. H. Warren, who made the appeal yesterday, said trunks of the gift trees much be six inches or less in diameter and they should be of "good quality."

Mr. Warren said he is particularly interested in obtaining a fine specimen of dogwood that is now growing in a garden.

The fact that it has already been transplanted and is now growing in good condition makes the garden variety preferable to dogwood found growing in their natural state, he added.

Several offers of gift trees have already been received at city hall. But most were for species that would not fit the landscaping plan.

Those that are being sought include: purple leaf flowering plum, large Japanese maple, red oak, birch, deodara cedar, and Japanese cherry.

"We're looking for adolescent trees," said Mr. Warren. "It should be at the stage where the trees still have a lot of vigor—but hasn't quite reached maturity."

City council last week approved spending of $10,000 for preparation and transplanting of 30 mature trees in Centennial Square within the next two years.

Pruning Scheduled

Under the auspices of the Gordon Head Garden Club, A. E. Littler, district horticulturist, will demonstrate fruit pruning in the orchard of D. R. Worsley, 4388 Torquay Drive, at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

United Appeal

No Need To 'Con' The Public

Retiring campaign chairman John Wallace told members of the Greater Victoria United Appeal last night they could expect a five-per-cent annual increase in campaign goals each year, but these could be met without resorting to "gimmicks to con the public."

Mr. Wallace was addressing about 200 people at the annual meeting of the appeal group in the Empress Hotel. The meeting was held in conjunction with the annual awards dinner for outstanding contributing groups.

He said although the 1963 campaign fell short of the $400,000 goal set, it was a realistic one, and brought in 8.5 per cent more than the 1962 campaign.

Mr. Wallace said he had mistakenly thought the fund drive could be completed in Greater Victoria within the five-week time limit, but this had proved unsatisfactory, and in future the campaign should begin earlier in the year and not be halted until the goal is reached. (The 1963 campaign was extended past the original deadline.)

OPEN DOOR

Mr. Wallace said the Community Chest — now with 24 member agencies — should maintain its open-door policy of admitting new agencies, even if only at the rate of one each year. This he said would result in a truly united appeal.

Each new agency results in increased demands of from five to 10 per cent, he said, but with the same "no-nonsense" type of campaign, higher goals could be reached.

He said there were still several untapped sources of revenue which could be developed by campaign officials

Earlier in last night's meeting, outgoing president Dr. Peter Banks expressed the hope that volunteer work such as was found in the United Appeal, would never be replaced by a compulsory giving through a tax levy.

NOT CASE

Dr. Banks said when he was first introduced to the Community Chest he had feared it would be a "narrow-gutted, mealy-mouthed rag and bobtail of do-gooders," but he had found this was not the case, and the workers in fact sincere and competent.

Dr. Banks said appeal officials were giving serious thought to pressing for a charitable appeals review board to keep the public informed as to the cost of raising funds and to give all agencies a stamp of approval.

Both he and Mr. Wallace called for a better-developed publicity program for future campaigns.

DONALD LAWSON

Lawson Heads Appeal

He was named last night at the annual meeting of the Community Chest, held in conjunction with the annual awards dinner for outstanding contributors to the 1963 appeal.

J. Alan Baker was elected president of the group, succeeding Dr. Peter Banks.

Leg Broken

A boy was in good condition in Royal Jubilee Hospital last night after he suffered a broken leg when he was knocked from his bicycle by a car at Cadboro Bay and Epworth yesterday morning.

Oak Bay police said John Porter, 13, of 2338 Heron, was injured when he collided with a car driven by James Hendrickson, 2738 Dunlevy.

Museum

Chant Plan Rejected

The executive of Victoria Chamber of Commerce yesterday rejected the proposal by Works Minister W. N. Chant to locate the provincial museum in Beacon Hill Park.

Following its meeting yesterday, the chamber executive issued a brief statement that its members were unanimously opposed to the suggested move.

FORMAL BASIS

Reaction from within city hall was also largely negative, but spokesmen took pains to avoid public statements of opposition until the proposal is made on a formal basis.

It said: "I had an informal call from the Hon. W. N. Chant, minister of public works, suggesting the top of Beacon Hill as a possible site for the museum.

BEFORE CABINET

"I understand, however, that this has not yet been before the cabinet. If we do receive a detailed proposal from the government, I feel sure it will receive careful consideration by city council."

Mayor Wilson said later that the city solicitor would be asked to double-check the legal status of the deed under which Beacon Hill Park was turned over to the city for recreation use.

Parks administrator W. H. Warren, a staunch opponent of any intrusion in the park, said he had no comment at this time but pointed out there were questions raised by an 1884 judgment that such a use was permissible under the trust deed.

Ald. Geoffrey I. Edgelow, chairman of the public works committee and a member of the parks committee, said he was against the use of Beacon Hill Park as a museum site.

AS IT IS NOW

"There is already parking area there but to provide a museum would also mean a need for more parking space. I think the park should be left as it is now.

"It would be a grave mistake to put a museum at the park as it would take away even more of the park's natural beauty."

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a career girl in my late 30's. My brother is 46 and unmarried also. He has his own apartment and I have mine.

Several weeks ago we were talking about the lonely lives we both lead. I realized for the first time that he's as miserable as I am. It occurred to us that if we pooled our resources and got a large apartment in one of the newer buildings we could live together for less than we are spending now, and enjoy each other's company.

When I told my friends that my apartment would soon be available because my brother and I plan to take a place together, the eyebrows shot up and the jaws dropped. One person said it sounds immoral and that I should prepare myself for some vicious gossip.

We think you are level-headed. What is your opinion?—S.O.S.

Dear S.O.S.: Most brothers and sisters grow up in the same house, don't they? So why is it immoral if they live together in later years? You know some mighty funny people, Lady. After you find yourself a new apartment I suggest you find some new friends.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: I have been wanting to write to you for a long time but have been reluctant to do so. To be perfectly candid, what is really bothering me is the fear that the people who work in our local newspaper office might see my letter.

I am well-known in town and I can't afford to have my trouble known. Other prominent people are involved in this mess and it wouldn't take much imagination to figure out who they are.

No doubt many readers around the country would like to write to you for help but they, too, are afraid their letters may be opened by the home town newspaper. Will you please clarify in print the handling of your mail? —FAITHFUL FAN

Dear Faithful: All letters addressed to Ann Landers are forwarded to me every week —unopened.

Your local newspaper editor understands that the letters written by his subscribers to Ann Landers are strictly personal. Anyone who wishes to write to me about an intimate problem may do so, secure in the knowledge that his confidence will be respected.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: I need sympathy, so please go easy on me. I shouldn't have gotten myself into this fix but I'm in it now and I must have guidance from someone who can think straight.

I entered college on a scholarship at 16—a quiz kid type. Better I should have been wiser in the ways of the world and not so book-smart. Today I am barely 19, a senior and three months pregnant. The man is a married student, 22. His wife is working to put him through school.

He says she is a wonderful person but plain. He lost interest in her when he met me. She knows something is going on but she doesn't know what —or who.

My parents live in a distant city and would die if they knew. Should I go to a home for unwed mothers and get this over with quietly or get the man to marry me? I know he will if I turn on the heat. —BRAINY BUT NOT SMART.

Dear Not Smart: Leave the heat alone. It sounds as if you've turned it on too good already.

Go to a home for unwed mothers and "get it over with quietly." If you pressure this man into marriage you can be sure he will lose interest in you when someone more attractive comes along—just as he did with his "wonderful but plain" wife.

Simonetta

Deflated Balloon

PARIS (AP)—Simonetta and Fabiani stayed out of the plunge sweepstakes today and took off after waistlines.

As though they had known that Cardin would drop the neckline to an all-time low, they lowered the focal point to mid-thigh.

Cossack blouses were the inspiration. The effect was that of a deflated balloon that skimmed along the body to billow low, harem-style, over a soft-pleated flounce.

In its most exaggerated versions, the Simonetta and Fabiani look came in a grey flannel or wool checks for day, and in print chiffon for evening. A long, strapless dress in sleek black silk swirled full around the knees, spilling over a double-flounce skirt.

Necklines were high. On tailored types, they were stiff military band collars. High, soft cowl-drapes were used for blouses and dresses in silk. There were necklines high and slashed in front, lower in back, sometimes filled in with a contrasting cowl.

Just for fun, Simonetta and Fabiani showed lacy, crocheted socks with matching flat pumps and sportswear. A gilt slave bracelet was worn high on one arm, and linked with a jingling Indian-bell chain to a ring on the other hand. This went with a long madly-striped pink dress with belted tunic and low flounce skirt.

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

THE BRAND NEW CHEVY-VAN IS HERE

WITH MORE GO-POWER, MORE STOPPING-POWER THAN ANY OTHER DELIVERY VAN IN ITS CLASS!

ANNOUNCING CHEVY-VAN: A LOW-COST, LIGHT-DUTY TRUCK, DESIGNED AND BUILT TO CARRY MAXIMUM LOADS AT MINIMUM COST THROUGH THE HEAVIEST BIG-CITY TRAFFIC.

And if ever a truck was built for downright efficiency, the Chevy-Van is. Read the facts about this brand-new addition to the Chevrolet Truck line, then see your local Chevrolet Truck dealer.

NEW CHEVY-VAN'S GOT THE POWER YOU NEED.
Chevrolet engineers gave the Chevy-Van plenty of power to cope with fast-moving traffic. Standard engine is the 90-hp High Torque 153 Four. Optional at extra cost is the 120-hp High Torque 194 Six. Both are built for economy, dependability and smooth running, with 5 main bearings in the 153 Four and 7 main bearings in the 194 Six. They'll deliver the power you want at minimum cost with either the 3-speed Synchro-Mesh or optional Powerglide automatic transmission.

NEW CHEVY-VAN'S GOT THE STOPPING POWER REQUIRED IN HEAVY TRAFFIC.
For today's traffic you need more than just adequate brakes. That's why the new Chevy-Van is equipped with fully self-adjusting hydraulic brakes with plenty of lining area — plenty of stopping power! Ribbed brake drums give more effective cooling and greater rigidity. That means greater resistance to fading — longer lining life. In addition, Chevy-Van's ideal body-payload weight distribution means that there's no nose-diving under hard braking. Loaded or empty, Chevy-Van's got the stopping-power you've been looking for in a light-duty delivery van.

NEW CHEVY-VAN'S GOT THE PAYLOAD SPACE YOU WANT.
This truck was built to work for its living — make no mistake about that! With a maximum GVW rating of 5000 lbs. the Chevy-Van can carry a full 2000 pounds of payload in its 211 cubic foot cargo compartment. Clear load space is 7½ feet long with an additional 4 feet of load space along the right side of the engine. Curb-side doors (optional at extra cost) open to over 4 feet in both width and height, making loading or delivery safe and convenient. All doors have locks, and feature Chevrolet's convenient single-key locking system.

NEW CHEVY-VAN'S GOT THE LOADING EASE YOU LIKE.
Chevy-Van's double rear doors open mighty wide — giving easy access to the perfectly flat ribbed steel floor. There's not even a raised sill to get in the way. Add that to its 22 inch floor height, and you'll see why Chevy-Van will be a real asset in your delivery operation.

NEW CHEVY-VAN'S GOT THE HANDLING EASE YOU NEED.
The tightest parking spots or the smallest openings in traffic are big enough for the new, nimble Chevy-Van. And Chevy-Van's engineered stability ensures safe highway handling. Total overall length is just 167½ inches — on a 90 inch wheelbase. With its 32½ foot turning circle and excellent driver visibility, every driving manoeuvre in a Chevy-Van is sure and simple.

CHEVY-VAN...perfectly practical! CHEVROLET

Shirley Johnston Weds New Zealand Minister

Fairfield United Church was the setting for a pretty wedding last evening when Shirley Margaret Johnston, daughter of Rev. Dr. H. K. Johnston, 354 Moss Street, became the bride of Rev. David George Simmers.

Dr. Johnston, assisted by Rev. Dr. William Klempa, performed the marriage ceremony for his daughter and her groom, the son of Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Simmers, Wellington, New Zealand.

Given in marriage by her father the bride chose an exquisite white peau de soie gown fashioned with floor-length belled skirt en train and fitted bodice, enhanced with lace appliques at waistline. For "something borrowed" she wore a shoulder-length embroidered veil held in place by a tiny circlet of peau de soie and matching lace appliques. She carried white carnations.

Miss Alma Gomez of Vancouver, as maid of honor, was in a waltz-length turquoise gown with matching feather headpiece. White tulips were in her bouquet.

Mr. Habil Ram Mall of India was best man. Mr. J. P. Fawcett and Mr. John Campbell, Victoria, were ushers.

Rev. Cecil Whitmore of Sidney proposed the toast to the bride at a reception in Fairfield United Church hall which was attractively decorated for the occasion with baskets of spring flowers.

As part of their honeymoon trip, Rev. and Mrs. Simmers will travel by air to San Francisco, Honolulu and Fiji en-route to Auckland, New Zealand, where they will make their home.

Women Up Front At Convention

OTTAWA (CP) — Tuesday was a long, emotionally-charged day for hundreds of Progressive Conservative party women members.

Although the women held their own national convention Monday, they would not settle for a back seat at the party's main meeting Tuesday.

* * *

In the wilting heat of the convention hall or in the crowded corridors of the Chateau Laurier, they distributed pamplets, made short speeches and gave moral support to voting delegates.

Olive Diefenbaker, quietly dressed in a navy blue suit and rose velvet hat, sat with her husband on the convention platform during his two appearances at the meeting.

* * *

It was easy to see why national PC president Egan Chambers, in paying a special tribute to Mrs. Diefenbaker, called her John Diefenbaker's "first lieutenant."

Among the prominent PC women at the meeting was former Conservative cabinet minister Ellen Fairclough. She paused in the corridor to have her picture taken with Mr. Diefenbaker.

* * *

"Smile, you're on candid camera," said the opposition leader. Mrs. Fairclough did. Later, the former immigration minister told a reporter she was not interested in returning to politics.

Typical of the women's attitude was that of tiny, grey-haired Mrs. A. C. Blaikie of Economy, N.S. Mrs. Blaikie won applause from convention delegates when she spoke out against a secret ballot on the leadership question.

* * *

Mrs. Ernest Mardon of Edmonton took her 19-months-old son Austin to the convention and Austin ended up shaking hands with Davie Fulton, now leader of the Conservative party in British Columbia, and Mrs. Fairclough.

The most colorful group of women at the convention was the Calgary delegation. They came in "squaw dresses," the brightly-colored, full-skirted costumes worn each year at the Calgary Stampede.

Future of Nations Depends on Youth

"I believe each man is an island unto himself," Mr. Ronald Ralph Jeffels, registrar at the University of Victoria, told the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon.

In his address on Triumph of the Mind that Matters, Mr. Jeffels traced the spectacular advancements in scientific research, medical sciences, nutrition, the arts and transportation, since the H-bomb was dropped on Japan in 1945.

* * *

He pointed out that if one were to believe all that is said on radio and television panels, in special columns in newspapers and magazines, human beings of the 20th century seem ill at ease.

"This is the age of frustrations in the individual."

And in referring to the masses he said that the nations of the world have never been as uneasy as they are today.

He emphasised that this was the kind of world educators must prepare young people. The scientific revolution and social changes will demand that they be ready to experiment in the field of education.

"The whole process of education has to meet the upgrading of contemporary society," he said.

* * *

The speaker went on to say that the strength of the nation depends on the quality of education given to its young people. He stressed what could happen if ruthless leaders took over a country and reminded his audience of what had happened in Europe in the last 30 years—using Hitler's Germany as an example—where a whole generation of people had been distorted through education.

"Nations can't survive if they distort the minds and souls of their young people," he said.

Mr. Jeffels emphasised that education was the device that enables human beings to go on acquiring the best that man has ever written, painted, recorded or dreamed.

The speaker felt education plays its primary role in the individual mind.

"When we're entirely alone with our own thoughts how rich is the internal experience?"

* * *

He said his greatest worry of modern education was that it may become de-humanized and de-personalized.

He felt that the universities will always foster the growth of individual minds, but they must always provide an atmosphere in which the great intellectuals can make the breakthrough in knowledge.

Donna Stephens Weds M. S. Blyth

At a double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. R. J. Morris in First United Church Saturday evening, Miss Donna Lynne Stephens was united in marriage with Mr. Malcolm Scott Blyth.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Stephens, Lotus Street, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length bridal gown of white peau de soie styled with lily-point sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil fell from a crown of pearls and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white hyacinths.

They wore waltz-length dresses of turquoise brocade and their hats of the same material were trimmed with rose veiling. Pink carnations formed their bouquets.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Blyth, Uganda Street, had Mr. Mike Connorton as best man. Mr. Jim Painter and Mr. Ross Cameron showed guests to the pews.

A reception was held at the White Eagle Hall where pussy-willows and daffodils decorated the tables and a four-piece orchestra was in attendance.

Leaving to spend a honeymoon up-Island, the bride wore a pink Italian knit suit, black and white accessories and an orchid corsage. On their return they will live at 1 Woodville Place.

TV TALK

By JIM TAYLOR

TV NOTES: Lucille Ball's decision to drop her TV show must have come as quite a shock to CBS, which was trying to talk her into expanding the show to 60 minutes. Thus ends the solidest 90 minutes of all in the TV popularity polls—Miss Ball, Danny Thomas and Andy Griffith. Lucy and Danny are through at the end of this season, Griffith at the end of next . . . Ed Sullivan said the requests for tickets for the two appearances of the Beatles on his show this Sunday and next has topped 50,000 . . . George Burns sings on Mitch Miller's show Monday, and this you've simply got to hear . . . Jack Benny spends his Feb. 25 show imitating Jackie Gleason . . . probes are being made to see if lengthy live telecasts of the Olympic Games can be made via satellite from Tokyo . . . one of the biggest hit shows in England at the moment is Burke's Law. Why?

Winning Contract

By HOWARD SCHENKEN and RICHARD L. FREY

From time to time, a bidding decision may seem to be right on the borderline between pessimism and optimism. In such cases, there are usually some nontechnical factors to influence the decision. If North had taken a psychological point into account, he would have taken a small profit from this deal instead of a loss.

Vul: Both

NORTH
♠ K 9 2
♥ J 9 3 2
♦ 7 5 3

WEST
♠ Q J 10 8 3
♥ 4
♦ J 10 8 2

EAST
♠ 5 4
♥ K 8 7 6
♦ Q 9 6
♣ Q J 7 6

SOUTH (D)
♠ A 7 6
♥ A Q 10 5
♦ A K 4
♣ A 10 8

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
2 N.T.	Pass	3 N.T.	All Pass

Opening lead: Spade queen

South's hand counts to 21 high-card points, but the presence of four aces and two tenspots make it fully the equivalent of a 22 point hand. This makes it a maximum two no trump bid, not a minimum; the range of 22-24 for two no trump, given by some textbooks, is virtually obsolete among experts.

Adding his 4 points to South's presumed 21-22, North could tell that his side had just enough strength to attempt a game. But game contracts are often difficult when one hand is very weak and therefore short of entries, which was the case here. With the decision so close, North should have allowed for the fact that partner was not a highly skilled player. It is always better to hold back slightly when the defence is likely to be better than the dummy-play and, conversely, to bid one more where the opposite is true.

The contract depended entirely on whether declarer could make four heart tricks. The heart king was favorably located, but there was a technical problem which South was unable to solve. He won the spade opening in dummy and led the heart jack. Perhaps he hoped that East would "cover an honor with an honor," but East did not oblige. The jack held in dummy and declarer finessed again. He had to win this trick in his own hand, and East retained a guarded king.

Declarer should have led the heart nine from dummy, not the jack. When the nine held, he could have continued with the jack, keeping the lead in dummy to take a third finesse.

Farewell

Drew Blasts Trade Critics

LONDON (CP)—In a farewell speech Tuesday, George Drew blasted critics of Canadian trade policy.

Those who speak of Canadian barriers on British exports, he said, are guilty of "pure and unadulterated poppycock."

The fact was that Canada's anti-dumping laws were passed 50 years ago. British exporters had an advantage rather than a disadvantage in Canada.

STRONG SENTIMENT

There was a "strong, strong sentiment" in Canada for buying British goods — "it just couldn't be otherwise."

Drew was addressing a luncheon meeting of the Commonwealth Correspondents' Association. His term of office as Canadian high commissioner came to an end officially last weekend and he returns to Canada in late May after a holiday in Italy.

He made a vigorous defence

"There are some who speak in almost despairing terms of the Commonwealth. I am one of those who refuse to believe that the Commonwealth is an effete organization that is likely to disintegrate."

HISTORY FORGOTTEN

He found it "very disturbing" that a younger generation of writers was growing up in Britain who seemed to have forgotten recent history. He recalled the sacrifices made by Commonwealth countries over the last century.

Claire Boothe Luce Hits Politicians

* * *

"I am for the 35-hour week without any increase in labor costs.

"I am for lifting everyone off the social bottom. In fact, I am for doing away with the social bottom altogether.

* * *

"I am for victory in Viet Nam without any increase in U.S. casualties or expenditures.

"I am for doing away with all military juntas except those we bring into power.

* * *

"I am for the independence and sovereignty of the young, immature African nations and the abandonment of the independence and sovereignty of all the old, mature European nations.

* * *

"I am for the occupation of Germany by U.S. armed forces for the indefinite future while slowly withdrawing American troops.

"I am for the sovereignty of Panama in the Canal Zone under the American flag. . . .

* * *

"I am for birth control methods acceptable to all nations and religions, this to be reached by international agreement safeguarded by regular inspection of the reproduction mechanism of the population bomb.

"I am for harmless cigarettes, still using the same old rich, flavorful tobacco . . ."

Faith Holds Seminar For Indians

REGINA (CP)—A number of Indians from reserves in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba are meeting for a seminar on how the Baha'i faith might help them surmount their problems.

Cost of the seminar is born by the Baha'i group, which advocates a removal of what it says is paternalism on the part of white people trying to help Indians.

Student Choice

EDMONTON (UPI)—High-school students in Alberta may have to join the labor force if they don't attend school regularly.

An amendment to the Education Act will go to the legislature session Feb. 13, empowering principals to dismiss students for "habitual neglect of duty." Teachers and school trustees have approved the legislation.

Vault Robbed Near Police

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Burglars broke into the vault at city hall, a half-block from the police station, and fled with about $14,000 in silver. Police said they also broke into a soft drink machine and drank while they worked to open the vault in the basement.

Dutch Queen Reports to Nation

Princess Irene's Engagement Off, Says Juliana

THE HAGUE (AP)—Queen Juliana told the Dutch people Tuesday night that a planned engagement of her second daughter, Princess Irene, would not take place.

The 24-year-old Irene was linked romantically with a Spaniard after it was announced last week that she had left the Protestant Dutch Reform faith of the royal house to become a Roman Catholic.

At the time of the announcement Irene was in Spain, but she vanished from the Dutch Embassy in Madrid last Saturday.

She said she would have liked to tell her people earlier about the future plans of her daughter. But this could not be done, she went on, "because of the enjoyable possibility of an engagement."

The Queen then added: "But now, we have to tell you, alas, that our daughter Irene told us this afternoon that this engagement will not take place."

"You will feel with us that our daughter now is going through a very difficult time.

"We, therefore, make an urgent appeal to all of you to give her the rest which she is needing so much in these circumstances."

★ ★ ★

Within two hours after her arrival, she received Premier Victor Marijnen. There were reports that in a four-hour session they had discussed constitutional problems raised by Irene's conversion and a possible marriage to a Spanish Roman Catholic.

Government and political circles, although respecting the 24 - year - old Irene's religious choice, were upset by the fact that the cabinet and people had not been informed.

Tory Support Overwhelming

Thunder For John D

By BEN WARD

OTTAWA (CP)—John Diefenbaker received an overwhelming vote of confidence Tuesday at the Progressive Conservative party's annual meeting after a bid to hold an unprecedented secret ballot on his leadership was rejected.

A resolution endorsing his leadership was approved in a roaring standing vote.

It was impossible to make an accurate count, but it appeared that only about 50 of the 800 delegates remained seated when the vote in favor of Mr. Diefenbaker was called.

STAYED SEATED

"Make it unanimous," someone shouted, but most of those seated stayed that way.

After chairman William Cox of Halifax called for those opposed to the confidence resolution to stand, between 30 and 40 arose. There was booing and catcalls from sides of the hall.

TENSION BROKEN

Voting broke the electric tension which had been building up for three hours in the jammed hotel ballroom, hazy with smoke and steaming hot under an emotion-charged speech by the former prime minister in which he said he wanted the leadership of the party decided.

WANT TO KNOW

"I want to know where I stand," he said, referring to reports that an element within the party sought to remove him.

"I want to know where you stand, too," he added, bringing his audience to its feet in a thunderous ovation.

Mr. Diefenbaker said that no leader could move forward toward the foe while fearing that someone behind him would "interfere."

"If you decide on a secret vote . . . that's fine with me."

The major hassle of the afternoon developed on the motion by John Hilton of Toronto calling for a secret ballot on the draft resolution expressing

Nobody Will Bell The Cat!

OTTAWA (CP)—Who will bell the cat?

But despite pre - convention mutterings about discontent and disillusion with Mr. Diefenbaker's leadership, not one delegate offered a public criticism.

A few delegates refused to endorse confidence in Mr. Diefenbaker in the face of the convention's overwhelming and vociferous backing for the former prime minister.

This had been expected.

But what was unexpected was the complete absence of any criticism of Mr. Diefenbaker.

Perhaps many older Conservatives remembered bitterly how the party, during his long, dreary years in opposition from 1935 to 1957, practically made a habit of stoning its successive leaders for failure to win office.

Shipyard Strike On Today

About 1,400 Victoria shipyard workers were to strike today, despite last-minute government appeals which labor spokesmen said "came too late in the day."

Another 800 men in Vancouver, seeking the same new contract, agreed to postpone their scheduled walkout yesterday after a direct appeal by Labor Minister Peterson.

Mr. Peterson ordered deputy minister William Sands to intervene yesterday and request the men to halt the strike—scheduled for 7 a.m. — until after a labor-management meeting to start at 10 a.m.

Vancouver union officials, representing Burrard Drydocks, agreed.

TOO LATE

But James McConachy, president of the Victoria Metal Trades Council, said the government request came "too late in the day," strike machinery was already set in motion, and as far as he was concerned, the strike would come off as scheduled. The men would not report for the shift beginning at 7 a.m.

During negotiations, the companies accepted, but unions rejected a unanimous conciliation board recommendation of a three-year, 30-cent increase. The 22 unions involved

Beatle Cut Ban Beaten

Students at Oak Bay High School have beaten the Beatle-haircut ban. Now, students are permitted to wear Beatle-style haircuts, providing they are not too long in the fringe.

Principal John Wallace decided this yesterday after requests from students David Mawle, 2641 Orchard, and Philip Linfield, 1705 Richardson, plus a 178-signature petition from other pupils.

Philip, who came to Victoria from England a few months ago, admitted last night that he may have started the haircut craze at the school.

Said Philip: "I had a Beatle haircut before I came here. When I first arrived, no one had heard of the Beatles and I came in for some leg-pulling.

CATCH ON

"But when the group started to catch on out here other students started having their hair cut Beatle - style — and that's when the trouble started."

Philip is a keen Beatle fan and has some of their records.

"I wouldn't mind being in a group myself," he said. "I'm learning the guitar at the moment. It would be fun to have a group."

Said David, "I talked to Mr. Wallace and he said he didn't mind our haircuts if we didn't let them get too long—especially at the front."

He added: "We're glad the ban has been lifted. And we'll be watching the Beatles on Ed Sullivan's show Sunday."

Blizzard Rages In Five States

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A blizzard raged across portions of five states in the U.S. southwest Tuesday whipping snow falls of more than 22 inches into drifts 10 feet high.

Traffic was paralyzed and scores of cities and towns isolated as the snow continued into the night.

Huge snow plows churned through snowdrifts along U.S. Highway 66 Tuesday night and freed some 30 motorists stranded in automobiles.

The transcontinental highway was clear but icy eastward to Santa Rosa, Assistant State Police Chief Capt. Joe Black said.

Black said all stranded motorists now were accounted for as far as he knew. The motorists went to both Tucumcari and Santa Rosa.

THREE DEATHS

Three deaths in New Mexico and three in southeast Texas, far south of the snowstorm, were blamed on the weather. A rescue team using a snow plow failed to find two cowboys missing in the Texas panhandle and helicopters stood by for a possible rescue when the weather cleared.

Cyclist Mystery Deepens

The mystery began Saturday when two women strolling along a beach south of San Francisco found a suitcase containing a passport made out to Clare McEwen, 24, of Winnipeg. The contents also included a receipt for a man's bicycle purchased in San Francisco.

RCMP NOTIFIED

On Tuesday, Sgt. Thomas Culley of the Daly City detective bureau said the parents of Miss McEwen had telephoned from Winnipeg, verified that their daughter had been due in this area and was on her way as a tourist to Mexico.

Culley now is checking a report that a Daly City resident saw a large woman pushing a bicycle in the city Jan. 26.

RCN Ships At Manila

MANILA (AP)—Three Canadian destroyer escorts are here on a four-day goodwill visit as part of a Far East training cruise. The vessels, the HMCS Frazier, Mackenzie and St. Lawrence, have visited Hawaii, Midway and Guam. They will later join ships of other Commonwealth countries in exercises in the Indian Ocean.

Medicare Drugs Urged on Ontario

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Pharmacists' Association has decided to press the Ontario government to include its pre-paid drug prescription plan in any provincial medical care legislation.

The association recommended acceptance of the Green Shield plan, which it described as non-profit and which has been in operation across Ontario since last July, administered by member pharmacists.

The association agreed at its semi - annual council meeting Tuesday to take its demands to the provincial government. Its decision was made after hearing a report from Prescription Services Incorporated on the operation of the Green Shield plan.

Earlier this year the association had sugested to a government committee studying proposed medical care legislation that such legislation should include a pre-paid prescription plan.

Murder Suspect Checked Earlier

VANCOUVER (CP) — The man named by Charles Heathman as the murderer of Vernon newsboy Donald Ottley has been investigated long ago, an RCMP official said Tuesday.

Staff Sgt. Frank Regan said his questioning of Heathman on this statement has revealed nothing and the renewed study of the Ottley case now will switch to Vernon itself.

Heathman, twice convicted of the boy's 1960 murder and later acquitted, said last week that people in Vernon "know who did it and so do I."

Oil Firm Spokesman Denies Gas Price Cut Initiation

"Imperial Oil Limited had nothing whatsoever to do with initiating a recent retail price reduction in Port Alberni," C. L. Goddard, manager of the firm's Pacific marketing region, said yesterday.

"These price reductions were the result of independent action of two Imperial dealers in Port Alberni," he said.

Mr. Goddard was commenting on a statement made in the legislature by John Squire (NDP — Alberni) who demanded that the oil companies stop "manipulating" prices while the royal commission is examining the gasoline price structure in B.C. Cyril Shelford (SC — Omineca) had made a similar charge in an earlier speech.

"Press and radio reports at the time made it clear that two Imperial service station operators had dropped prices in Alberni to meet non-brand competition. The operators were not on consignment at the time of the price move and made their own decision about the price cuts."

Mr. Goddard further commented that Mr. Squire's suggestion that gasoline prices should remain frozen until the royal commission arrived at some findings would be impractical.

"It is probable the commission may hold hearings over a period of many months," Mr. Goddard said.

★ ★ ★

"In the meantime competition does not cease. By this it is meant we must continue to compete in an intensely competitive market. Therefore, prices may fluctuate from time to time in some areas because of changing economic situations. In the long run such moves are in the public interest."

Certificate Cancelled

Conviction Ends Teaching Career

The British Columbia teaching certificate of a Nanaimo man convicted on a morals charge has been cancelled by provincial cabinet order.

This means that Robert Albert Parker will never be able to teach school again in this province.

Parker was found guilty last year of an indecent act involving an eight-year-old boy. At the time, the 50-year-old man was teaching at John Barsby School in Nanaimo. Education minister Leslie Peterson ordered an investigation.

It was disclosed that Parker had taught previously in Burnaby and at Big Bar, B.C., but his reasons for leaving these positions was never made known.

A spokesman for the B.C. Teachers' Federation said his organization had not been made aware of Parker's background, and urged school boards to make it possible for the federation to police its own ranks.

Said Dr. J. F. K. English, deputy minister of education, yesterday:

"As far as we are concerned anybody convicted of an indictable offence such as this cannot teach any more.

"He could have been suspended, which would possibly have meant reinstatement later on. But cancellation—that's it. He cannot teach again in this province."

PARKSVILLE — Burglars struck at a Parksville store sometime between Saturday night and Tuesday morning but only got away with eight or nine dollars in cash.

Mrs. Cyril Hughes, proprietor of Gene's Apparel ladies wear store, arrived at the shop Tuesday morning to find the washroom window broken and drawers and clothing boxes opened and scattered about the store.

She could not find any clothing missing but thought a girl or woman had been one of the culprits because a pair of stockings had been taken out of a box and tried on then left on the floor.

It is believed that the same thief or thieves had tried to gain entrance to the office of Dr. D. M. Peterson, next door, as a back window had been forced but not opened wide enough for anyone to crawl through.

Council Backing

Nanaimo Urged To Support Strathcona Park

NANAIMO—Ted Barsby, Nanaimo's newest alderman, urged the council's support, Monday night, of the Vancouver Island parks group in its crusade to urge the provincial government to go ahead with the development of Strathcona Park.

"The park," Ald. Barsby said, "has the highest falls in Canada, the highest mountain on the island and the greatest climatic range from mild marine to frosty Alpine conditions."

Ald. Barsby pointed out that much could be done inexpensively by brushing out trails and erecting shelters and camp sites.

DEDICATED IN 1906

The park, he said, was dedicated in 1906 and development was begun in 1911. Exotic trees were imported and planted along the road which was made through the area before 1914.

The First World War halted the proceedings and later mining and logging interests were permitted to operate in the park, he explained.

The Buttle Lake development opened it up to some extent but the park is still undeveloped and the highest falls in Canada, Della Falls, and Golden Hind, the highest mountain on the island, are still hard to get at.

Ald. Barsby told the council that the game clubs intend to support the development with a series of color motion pictures of the park area.

* * *

It also refused an offer to purchase 50 acres of city property on Lot 9, Douglas District on the other side of Mt. Benson. The property, known as No. 6 Dam, doesn't cost the city much to retain and it was felt that there might be some future use for it.

Council also rejected an inquiry from J. B. Garner, of the G Bar N, who expressed interest in purchasing the westerly half of Section 14, Range 5, Cranberry District, which forms part of the new garbage dump site.

TERMS ACCEPTED

Terms offered N. J. Lupal, proprietor of the Bluebird Motel, by the city were accepted for the purchase of the part of Walnut Street lying between the E and N Railway and Terminal Ave. The site is to be used for living accommodation.

Bamfield Faces Problem

PORT ALBERNI — A new problem in the lives of Bamfield residents has put a damper on the village's plans for a wide-open invitation to the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island.

In a report from the Island chambers' executive, read at Port Alberni Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday, it was announced that Bamfield Chamber had decided that it would be impossible to find parking if a cavalcade of cars were to come over the new Bamfield access road.

SPRINGTIME VISIT

As an alternative, the West Coast village will invite a few representatives of the ACCVI to pay a springtime visit using as few vehicles as possible.

Approximately 25 people could be accommodated for an overnight visit, while five or six cars could be parked along the roadway. The village, which gained its overland access road only last fall, had got along for more than half a century without feeling the need of streets.

One or two families have had special, narrow, home-built vehicles used on surrounding trails.

Prisoners Moved To Colquitz

Fifteen prisoners have been moved into the old Colquitz mental home on Wilkinson Road and more are expected soon, Warden S. A. L. Hamblin said yesterday.

The new inmates are mostly from Vancouver Island and require only minimum security, he said.

Nanaimo Airport May Be Lighted

NANAIMO—Cassidair Services Ltd., which leases Nanaimo airport from the city, advised city council Monday night, that the Chamber of Commerce will be in touch with council concerning installation of a lighting system which would make the airport usable at night.

Just after the Second World War, the city took out a lease from the department of transport on the airport property to prevent it from being lost to the public, and under the terms of the lease the city is supposed to keep the airport in repair.

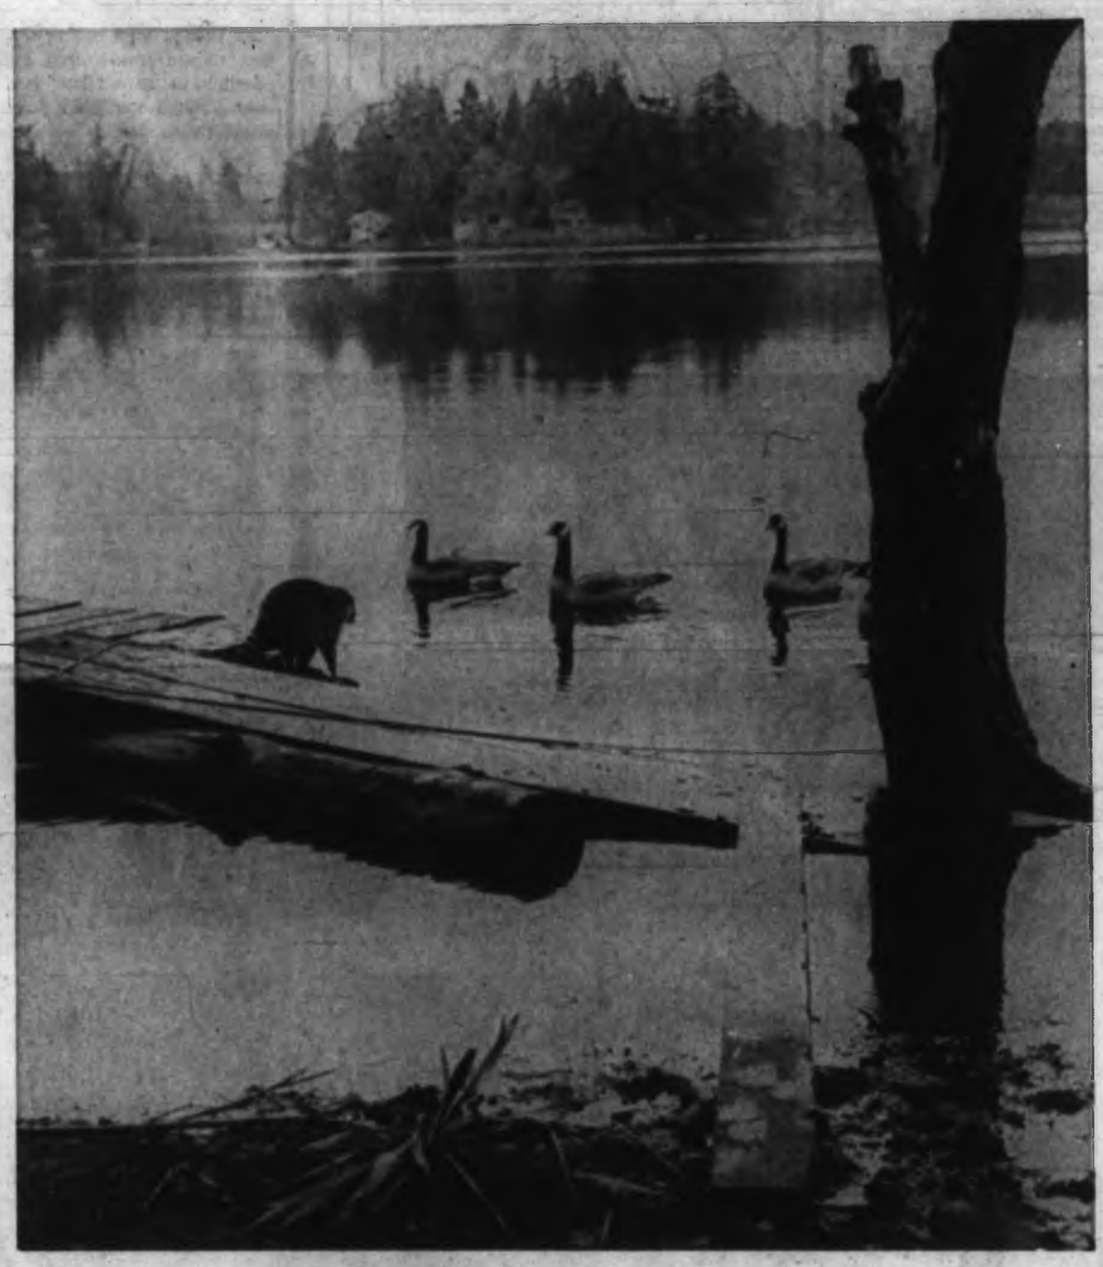
COST $60,000

Ald. Jack Parker said that it would cost the city around $60,000 to put in the required lighting. The airport is not an easy one to land on, he said, and lights would have to be placed on nearby mountains and hills as well as a beacon.

Ald. Parker also said that although it is the city's responsibility to keep the runway in repair, a plane was damaged recently when it ran off the landing strip and bogged down in a pothole, damaging its propellor.

NOT AFFORD

Ald. Doug Greer said that the city could not afford to let the airport go and suggested that the Chamber of Commerce might help in soliciting support.



Geese Outmanoeuvre Raccoon

Rare meeting between raccoon and Canada Geese at Langford Lake yesterday ended in a stalemate. Frisky raccoon scampered out onto wharf and jumped in after a goose, but the geese just circled around and came back to taunt their tormentor. Raccoon finally gave up, came ashore and went on his merry way.—(Jack Fry)

Taxes Upped By Schools In Cowichan

DUNCAN—Taxes in the Cowichan school district will make another jump this year, after the school board approved a 1964 budget which is 15 per cent higher than last year. This year's figure is $1,906,013. Last year it was $1,647,422.

The city of Duncan and the North Cowichan councils will have to approve of the educational expenditure, and probably will meet, as last year, with trustees to discuss the budget in detail.

PUPIL COST UP

The cost per pupil rose from $270 last year to $291 in 1964, and the budget's largest item will be spent on teachers' salaries, school clerical salaries and teaching supplies which totals $1,132,166, or 60.45 per cent of the total.

Last year the same items, headed under instruction, came to 59.90 per cent. The student enrolment this year in the Cowichan district is almost 300 pupils larger than last year, when it was 3,665.

TO ACQUIRE LAND

Previously another site for a school had been considered. It is located below the hill at Government Street which belongs to the city of Duncan.

FINE LOCATION

Trustee John Efford said the city's consulting engineer, Russell Potter, had told him the latter site would be fine for a school if drained properly.

Clearing work at the Cliffs Road hill, which is nearby, will cost approximately $4,500.

BY SEPTEMBER

The board accepted the lowest bid submitted by I. A. D'Arcy of Victoria of $37,512 for a classroom and activity room addition at the Cowichan Station Elementary School.

Estimated cost was $39,000. The bid acceptance is subject to the approval of the department of education.

ANOTHER SITE

Trustee Will Dobson, who, as a Duncan Rotarian, is closely associated with a swimming pool project by his club, told the board the Rotarians would have to look for another site as the previously suggested Pioneer Park's location is not suited because the water table is too high.

The club wants to pay $25,000 towards the $100,000 pool if the two municipalities here, Duncan and North Cowichan, would share the rest.

Nanaimo

School Costs Top City

NANAIMO—The school budget for 1964, submitted to city council this week, was set at $3,106,986.

The budget puts the Nanaimo board ahead of the city as the biggest spender of public funds. Nanaimo's provisional budget for 1964 is less than $2,800,000. Last year both bodies spent the same amount, about $2,800,000.

NEW TEACHERS

The increase in the school budget is accounted for mainly by increases in teachers' salaries. Ten new teachers were also added to the district payroll.

The figure given will be offset in some degree by receipts from cafeterias, resale of supplies and textbook rental fees.

The finance committee will study and report on the budget.

Leg Broken In Crash

A boy was in good condition in Royal Jubilee Hospital last night after he suffered a broken leg when he was knocked from his bicycle by a car at Cadboro Bay and Epworth yesterday morning.

Oak Bay police said John Porter, 13, of 2338 Heron, was injured when he collided with a car driven by James Hendrickson, 2738 Dunlevy.

First of Five Areas

'Tourist Row' Suggested For Paint-Up Facelift

Choice of the "tourist row" on lower Government Street as the first of five downtown areas to receive the proposed paint-up facelift treatment was recommended to city council yesterday.

FLORENCE DAVIES

The beautification committee unanimously approved an immediate start on the project and endorsed a request for $500 to be spent on promotion of the scheme this year.

Ald. A. W. Toone chairman, said the city had failed in earlier attempts to launch the program because it had tried to cover the entire downtown area at one time.

"This scheme calls for progressive coverage, perhaps over a period of four or five years," he said.

Roderick Clack, special projects and architectural consultant, said concentration of efforts in one small area on Government Street would yield the greatest effect this spring.

He predicted that if the program is vigorously backed by city council and taken up enthusiastically by the business community the next 18 months should see a marked improvement in appearance of large portions of the downtown section.

FIVE AREAS

Mr. Clack warned, however, that even the smallest of the five areas established here is larger than the original Norwich, England, scheme upon which this and other North American programs are patterned.

City manager Dennis Young said there should be no hint of apathy on the part of council if the program is to be successful. Every member of council, he added, must be prepared to sell the scheme to property owners and the general public.

TENTATIVE DATES

Tentative dates set for public meetings to discuss the project with businessmen have been set for March 15 and March 25.

The committee also recommended that $2,400 be spent to provide 469 baskets filled with daffodils to be displayed on downtown streets throughout the period of the spring flower festival now being organized by the Chamber of Commerce.

Ald. Toone said he would like to see a succession of spring flowers, starting with daffodils and progressing through tulips and perhaps wallflowers, providing a continuous show until the summer flower baskets go up June 1.

Mayor R. B. Wilson said this could be considered for 1965, adding that city council must provide a lead for the community in promoting the spring festival as a tourist attraction.

Estimated cost of three spring flower changes is $5,200 in addition to the $8,000 that is already spent each year on the summer flower baskets.

Public works committee recommended that the vacuum cleaner used to remove litter from downtown sidewalks be operated on Mondays in future to clear up paper dropped by Saturday shoppers.

Liquid Gas Answer For City

Liquid methane may be the answer to natural gas supply for Victoria and other B.C. points where transmission lines are too costly, Mines Minister Kiernan said Tuesday.

He told the legislature his department has been studying the economic feasibilities of liquid methane in connection with industrial applications.

The studies so far indicate it would be too costly for industries requiring huge amounts of energy but might be practical for residential and light industrial use.

Liquid methane is produced by reducing the temperature of gas to —264 degrees F. and once in liquid state, gas can be economically shipped.

Good Quality Trees Needed for Square

Residents of Greater Victoria are being invited to donate trees to be used in landscaping of Centennial Square.

City parks administrator W. H. Warren, who made the appeal yesterday, said trunks of the gift trees much be six inches or less in diameter and they should be of "good quality."

Mr. Warren said he is particularly interested in obtaining a fine specimen of dogwood that is now growing in a garden.

The fact that it has already been transplanted and is now growing in good condition makes the garden variety preferable to dogwood found growing in their natural state, he added.

Several offers of gift trees have already been received at city hall. But most were for species that would not fit the landscaping plan.

Those that are being sought include: purple leaf flowering plum, large Japanese maple, red oak, birch, deodara cedar, and Japanese cherry.

"We're looking for adolescent trees," said Mr. Warren. "It should be at the stage where the trees still have a lot of vigor—but hasn't quite reached maturity."

City council last week approved spending of $10,000 for preparation and transplanting of 30 mature trees in Centennial Square within the next two years.

Pruning Scheduled

Under the auspices of the Gordon Head Garden Club, A. E. Littler, district horticulturist, will demonstrate fruit pruning in the orchard of D. R. Worsley, 4368 Torquay Drive, at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Westholme Angry

Costly Bridge Flood Threat

WESTHOLME—Residents here are up in arms about a costly detour bridge at the Chemainus River Trans-Canada Highway bridge while an available detour of a few miles via Westholme and Chemainus remains unused.

The highway bridge, like others in the district, will be renovated and brought up to Trans-Canada Highway standards.

Angered residents here maintain the detour bridge is not only costly, but the pilings of the temporary span will cause a jam of the timber washed down the Chemainus River every year posing a serious flood threat.

Jack Pinson of Westholme, former North Cowichan councillor, said the lives of 200 people and their property would be endangered by a flood.

RISK LIVES

He said the temporary bridge will cost about $50,000 and it is not only the height of stupidity to build a bridge while a perfect detour is nearby, but it is tragic to risk the lives of so many.

He said even under normal conditions the Chemainus River rises twice as fast as the Cowichan River, flooding roads at Westholme, but with the piles of the temporary span hindering the free flow of drifting logs the flood threat to the entire area is multiplied several times.

Mr. Pinson added, "If a flood comes at night we would not even have a chance to get out of our homes."

PAST 50 YEARS

He said he has been living here for the past 50 years. "I know what I am talking about, and it is terrible that people responsible for a possible mortal flood just shrug their shoulders."

A few years ago, he said, the highways department resurfaced the blacktop on the Trans-Canada Highway stretch here and then re-routed the traffic via Westholme and Chemainus and it worked fine.

"Why not now?" he asked.

Mr. Pinson spoke to North Cowichan Reeve Donald Morton about the grave danger at the Chemainus River, and Reeve Morton Tuesday went to Victoria.

The reeve said Tuesday night he had had a long talk with the deputy minister of highways, Thomas Miard, and the latter had shown concern about the problem.

SHIPYARD STRIKE ON

Another 800 men in Vancouver, seeking the same new contract, agreed to postpone their scheduled walkout yesterday after a direct appeal by Labor Minister Peterson.

Mr. Peterson ordered deputy minister William Sands to intervene yesterday and request the men to halt the strike—scheduled for 7 a.m. — until after a labor-management meeting to start at 10 a.m.

Vancouver union officials, representing Burrard Drydocks, agreed.

TOO LATE

But James McConachy, president of the Victoria Metal Trades Council, said the government request came "too late in the day," strike machinery was already set in motion, and as far as he was concerned, the strike would come off as scheduled. The men would not report for the shift beginning at 7 a.m.

During negotiations, the companies accepted, but unions rejected a unanimous conciliation board recommendation of a three-year, 30-cent increase. The 22 unions involved

Dutch Queen Reports to Nation

Princess Irene's Engagement Off

THE HAGUE (AP)—Queen Juliana told the Dutch people Tuesday night that a planned engagement of her second daughter, Princess Irene, would not take place.

★ ★ ★

The 24-year-old Irene was linked romantically with a Spaniard after it was announced last week that she had left the Protestant Dutch Reform faith of the royal house to become a Roman Catholic.

At the time of the announcement Irene was in Spain, but she vanished from the Dutch Embassy in Madrid last Saturday.

She said she would have liked to tell her people earlier about the future plans of her daughter. But this could not be done, she went on, "because of the enjoyable possibility of an engagement."

The Queen then added: "But now, we have to tell you, alas, that our daughter Irene told us this afternoon that this engagement will not take place."

"You will feel with us that our daughter now is going through a very difficult time.

"We, therefore, make an urgent appeal to all of you to give her the rest which she is needing so much in these circumstances."

★ ★ ★

Within two hours after her arrival, she received Premier Victor Marijnen. There were reports that in a four-hour session they had discussed constitutional problems raised by Irene's conversion and a possible marriage to a Spanish Roman Catholic.

The throne has been traditionally Protestant.

Government and political circles, although respecting the 24 - year - old Irene's religious choice, were upset by the fact that the cabinet and people had not been informed.

Cyclist Mystery Deepens

The mystery began Saturday when two women strolling along a beach south of San Francisco found a suitcase containing a passport made out to Clare McEwen, 34, of Winnipeg. The contents also included a receipt for a man's bicycle purchased in San Francisco.

RCMP NOTIFIED

On Tuesday, Sgt. Thomas Culley of the Daly City detective bureau said the parents of Miss McEwen had telephoned from Winnipeg, verified that their daughter had been due in this area and was on her way as a tourist to Mexico.

Culley now is checking a report that a Daly City resident saw a large woman pushing a bicycle in the city Jan. 26.

MANILA (AP)—Three Canadian destroyer escorts are here on a four-day goodwill visit as part of a Far East training cruise. The vessels, the HMCS Frazier, Mackenzie and St. Lawrence, have visited Hawaii, Midway and Guam. They will later join ships of other Commonwealth countries in exercises in the Indian Ocean.

Canadian Sled Wins Heat

INNSBRUCK, Austria (CP)—Canada's No. 1 bobsled, piloted by Vic Emery of Montreal, sped to an early lead in the opening heat of the Olympic four-man bobsled competition today.

The Canadian squad sliced down the Olympic chute in a record one minute, 2:09 seconds, despite the fact that earlier sleds had cut deep ruts in the ice, softened by mild weather.

That was more than a half second faster than the second best time posted by Italy's ace Eugenio Monti, and well ahead of the other sleds in the field of 18.

Beatle Cut Ban Beaten

Students at Oak Bay High School have beaten the Beatle-haircut ban. Now, students are permitted to wear Beatle-style haircuts, providing they are not too long in the fringe.

Principal John Wallace decided this yesterday after requests from students David Mawle, 2641 Orchard, and Philip Linfield, 1705 Richardson, plus a 178-signature petition from other pupils.

Philip, who came to Victoria from England a few months ago, admitted last night that he may have started the haircut craze at the school.

Said Philip: "I had a Beatle haircut before I came here. When I first arrived, no one had heard of the Beatles and I came in for some leg-pulling.

CATCH ON

"But when the group started to catch on out here other students started having their hair cut Beatle-style — and that's when the trouble started."

Philip is a keen Beatle fan and has some of their records.

"I wouldn't mind being in a group myself," he said. "I'm learning the guitar at the moment. It would be fun to have a group."

Said David, "I talked to Mr. Wallace and he said he didn't mind our haircuts if we didn't let them get too long—especially at the front."

He added: "We're glad the ban has been lifted. And we'll be watching the Beatles on Ed Sullivan's show Sunday."

Cleveland Integrates

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland board of education capitulated Tuesday night to demands of civil rights groups and agreed to complete integration of all schools.

Blizzard Rages In Five States

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A blizzard raged across portions of five states in the U.S. southwest Tuesday whipping snow falls of more than 22 inches into drifts 10 feet high.

Traffic was paralyzed and scores of cities and towns isolated as the snow continued into the night.

Huge snow plows churned through snowdrifts along U.S. Highway 66 Tuesday night and freed some 30 motorists stranded in automobiles.

The transcontinental highway was clear but icy eastward to Santa Rosa, Assistant State Police Chief Capt. Joe Black said.

Black said all stranded motorists now were accounted for as far as he knew. The motorists went to both Tucumcari and Santa Rosa.

Three deaths in New Mexico and three in southeast Texas, far south of the snowstorm, were blamed on the weather. A rescue team using a snow plow failed to find two cowboys missing in the Texas panhandle and helicopters stood by for a possible rescue when the weather cleared.

Medicare Drugs Urged on Ontario

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Pharmacists' Association has decided to press the Ontario government to include its prepaid drug prescription plan in any provincial medical care legislation.

The association recommended acceptance of the Green Shield plan, which it described as non-profit and which has been in operation across Ontario since last July, administered by member pharmacists.

The association agreed at its semi - annual council meeting Tuesday to take its demands to the provincial government. Its decision was made after hearing a report from Prescription Services Incorporated on the operation of the Green Shield plan.

Earlier this year the association had suggested to a government committee studying proposed medical care legislation that such legislation should include a pre-paid prescription plan.

Murder Suspect Checked Earlier

VANCOUVER (CP) — The man named by Charles Heathman as the murderer of Vernon newsboy Donald Ottley has been investigated long ago, an RCMP official said Tuesday.

Staff Sgt. Frank Regan said his questioning of Heathman on this statement has revealed nothing and the renewed study of the Ottley case now will switch to Vernon itself.

Heathman, twice convicted of the boy's 1960 murder and later acquitted, said last week that people in Vernon "know who did it and so do I."

Tories Back John D

By BEN WARD

OTTAWA (CP)—John Diefenbaker received an overwhelming vote of confidence Tuesday at the Progressive Conservative party's annual meeting after a bid to hold an unprecedented secret ballot on his leadership was rejected.

A resolution endorsing his leadership was approved in a roaring standing vote.

It was impossible to make an accurate count, but it appeared that only about 50 of the 800 delegates remained seated when the vote in favor of Mr. Diefenbaker was called.

STAYED SEATED

"Make it unanimous," someone shouted, but most of those seated stayed that way.

After chairman William Cox of Halifax called for those opposed to the confidence resolution to stand, between 30 and 40 arose. There was booing and catcalls from sides of the hall.

TENSION BROKEN

Voting broke the electric tension which had been building up for three hours in the jammed hotel ballroom, hazy with smoke and steaming hot under an emotion-charged speech by the former prime minister in which he said he wanted the leadership of the party decided.

WANT TO KNOW

"I want to know where I stand," he said, referring to reports that an element within the party sought to remove him.

"I want to know where you stand, too," he added, bringing his audience to its feet in a thunderous ovation.

Mr. Diefenbaker said that no leader could move forward toward the foe while fearing that someone behind him would "interfere."

"If you decide on a secret vote . . . that's fine with me."

The major hassle of the afternoon developed on the motion by John Hilton of Toronto calling for a secret ballot on the draft resolution expressing

Nobody Will Bell The Cat!

OTTAWA (CP)—Who will bell the cat?

But despite pre - convention mutterings about discontent and disillusion with Mr. Diefenbaker's leadership, not one delegate offered a public criticism.

A few delegates refused to endorse confidence in Mr. Diefenbaker in the face of the convention's overwhelming and vociferous backing for the former prime minister.

This had been expected.

But what was unexpected was the complete absence of any criticism of Mr. Diefenbaker.

Perhaps many older Conservatives remembered bitterly how the party, during his long, dreary years in opposition from 1935 to 1957 practically made a habit of stoning its successive leaders for failure to win office.
